THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

TO THE

RIGHT HON. SPENCER H. WALPOLE,

HER MAJESTY'S PRINCIPAL SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE HOME DEPARTMENT.

BOARD OF SUPERVISION FOR THE RELIEF OF THE POOR IN SCOTLAND, CHAMBERS, GEORGE STREET, EDINBURGH, AUGUST 1858.

SIR,

WE have the honour to submit the General Report of our proceedings for the past year. Proceedings of Board.

Since the date of our last Report, the General Superintendents of the Poor have been actively engaged in the discharge of their laborious and often delicate duties within their respective districts, and we have every reason to be satisfied with the zeal and efficiency of these officers. Mr Briscoe has visited 66 Parishes, including those of the Outer Hebrides, and some of them more than once, in the Counties of Inverness, Ross and Cromarty, Sutherland, and Caithness. Mr Falconar has visited 192 Parishes (of which seven have been visited twice), in the Counties of Nairn, Elgin, Banff, Aberdeen, Kincardine, Forfar, Dumbarton, Stirling, Perth, Argyll, and Bute. A separate detailed Report has been furnished to us upon each of these Parishes immediately after the date of the visit to it; and we have transmitted for the information or for the observations of the Parochial Boards, such portion of each Report as we considered it desirable to communicate to them. We have been gratified by finding that the Parochial authorities, with one exception, readily adopted the suggestions which were made to them, and cheerfully proceeded to rectify such defects in the administration of the Law as were pointed out to them. The General Superintendents have also made to us General Reports upon the administration of the Law in their respective districts for the half-years ending 30th September 1857, and 31st March 1858.

App. (A). No. 1.

We have inserted in the Appendix Mr Briscoe's Report for the half-year ending 31st March last, relating to the Counties of Inverness, Ross and Cromarty, Sutherland, and Caithness, because it contains evidence of a deteriorating influence, resulting from the present mode of administering the Poor Laws in the Highland districts, which threatens injury to the permanent interests of the population. We have long had reason to fear this result, and we have not failed to express that opinion; but as our apprehensions did not appear to be shared by other persons who had devoted some attention to the subject, we have abstained until now from formally directing to it that special attention which cannot any longer, with safety, be denied to it.

The most effectual, and the least objectionable, means of checking the abuses referred to by Mr Briscoe, will probably be found in the erection and proper use of poorhouses. In the Highland counties there appears to be a proneness to pauperism, which, combined with, and fostered by, laxity of administration, seems to be producing an injurious effect upon the population, and contrasts strongly with the present state of things, in this respect, in Ireland, where the disposition to rely upon extraneous aid was, till recently, so marked.

Comparison of Pauperism in the Highlands and in Ireland.

Whatever may be the difference in character, there is a close affinity between the material condition, the habits, and modes of life, of the Celtic population in the Highlands of Scotland and in Ireland, especially the northern parts of that country. This is too obvious to require special illustration. Both were prostrated by the same calamity in 1846 and subsequent years. Both received in those years eleemosynary aid to an extent hitherto unprecedented; and in both the pressure of the population upon the means of subsistence has led to extensive emigrations. But in the two countries, the laws for the relief of ordinary destitution have from that time been essentially different, and a comparison of the results can hardly fail to be instructive.

The number of persons of all classes who received relief in Scotland on the 14th May 1857 was 119,453, which is equal to 1 in 24·19 of the population in 1851.

The number of persons of all classes receiving relief in Ireland in the week ended the 16th May 1857 was 53,331, which is equal to 1 in 122·86 of the population in 1851.

This disparity in the proportion of pauperism, being, in a given number of the population, about 5 in Scotland to 1 in Ireland, is remarkable. But that part of Ireland which, in the habits and condition of its inhabitants, most resembles Scotland, is the northern portion, comprising the provinces of Ulster and Connaught. The population of these two provinces in 1851 was 3,021,911, and therefore exceeded by 133,169 the population of Scotland, which was 2,888,742. A comparison of the proportion of pauperism in these two populations is thus perhaps as fair as any such comparison can well be. The only very obvious objection to it would arise from the consideration that, as Ireland had so recently emerged from the deepest distress and misery, an excess of pauperism in any part of that country could excite no surprise. The numbers, taken from the official Reports presented to Parliament, stand as follows :— Comparison of Pauperism in the Highlands and in Ireland.

Relieved in Scotland on 14th May 1857.		Relieved in Ulster and Connaught in Week ended 16th May 1857.
Registered Poor . .	79,217	In Workhouses . .	13,376
Dependents of such Poor	34,988	Out of Workhouses (in all Ireland 944), say one-half for Ulster and Connaught .	472
Casual Poor . .	2,898
Children of such Poor, Orphans, etc. . .	2,350
Total	119,453	Total	13,848

It appears, then, that although the population of Scotland was less than that of Ulster and Connaught, the number of persons receiving relief was more than eight times as great. In every 24 and a fraction of the population of Scotland, there was one pauper; but there was only one pauper in every 218 of the population of those two Irish provinces.

The four principal Highland counties—Argyll, Inverness, Ross, and Sutherland—with an aggregate population in 1851 of 294,497, were giving relief on the 14th May 1857 to 15,452 Registered Poor and their dependents (exclusive of Casual Poor), a number exceeding by 1,600 that of all the persons receiving relief at the same date in Ulster and Connaught with a population greater than that of the whole of Scotland. In the four Highland counties (including 663 Casual Poor), 1 in every 18·27 of the inhabitants was receiving relief; but in the two Irish provinces (including all classes), only 1 in 218.

If Connaught alone be compared with these four Highland counties, it will be found that, in the week ended 16th May 1857, Connaught, with a population in 1851 of 1,010,031, was giving relief to little more than 5,000 persons of all classes, or 1 in 200 of the inhabitants; while, at the same time, those four

Comparison of Pauperism in the Highlands and in Ireland.

Highland counties, with a population, as has been stated, of only 294,497, were at the same time giving relief to 16,115 persons of all classes, or to 1 in 18·27 of their inhabitants. Thus Connaught was giving relief to only 1 in 200, while the four Highland counties were giving relief to about 11 in 200.

Startling as are the results of these comparisons, they have not yet brought out the full extent of the difference between the ratio of pauperism to population in the two countries. In Scotland, able-bodied persons are not by law entitled to demand relief, and the returns of Registered Poor do not in any case include persons who are held to belong to that class; but the returns of the Poor Law Commissioners in Ireland, from which the numbers above stated are taken, include persons classed as able-bodied. In the week ended 16th May 1857, there were receiving relief of that class 10,924 in all Ireland, and in Ulster and Connaught 2,835. Excluding this class, the numbers would be :—

In the four Highland Counties.		In Ulster and Connaught.
Registered Poor and their Dependents	15,452	Total of all Classes	13,848
		Deduct Able-bodied	2,835
		Remain	11,013

Excluding the persons classed as able-bodied in Ireland, and the Casual Poor in the Highland counties, some of whom may possibly have been of that class, it appears that those counties were giving relief to a number greater by 4,439 than the two Irish provinces, with a population exceeding that of the whole of Scotland. In the Highland counties the proportion is 1 in 19, whereas in the two Irish provinces it is 1 in 274. This is nearly in the proportion of 15 paupers in the Highland counties to 1 in the Irish provinces—taking equal amounts of the population.

It is one of the most remarkable circumstances attending the operation of the Poor Laws in Ireland and in the Highlands, that in the former, since the difficulties caused by the famine were overcome, the number of persons requiring relief has steadily decreased from year to year, while in the latter there is a continued increase.*

* Population, 294,497— Four Highland Counties on 14th May. (Excluding Casual Poor.)		Population, 3,021,911— Ulster and Connaught, Week ended 16th May. (Excluding Able-bodied.)

1857,	15,452	11,013

There does not appear to be anything in the relative condition of the people in the two countries that can account for a difference so enormous in favour of Ulster and Connaught. The wages of labour appear to be higher in all parts of Scotland, than in those two Irish Provinces. It cannot be a consequence of greater sub-division of the land in Ireland, for the decrease in pauperism there has been coincident with a decrease in the number of small farms, and it is where small farms are numerous in Scotland that the excess of pauperism is the greatest. Any difference that there may be in the domestic economy and scale of subsistence in the two countries will not account for so vast a disparity, because there is a very remarkable similarity in these respects in the Celtic population of the two countries, and it is precisely in this portion that the difference in the proportion of pauperism is the most striking. But in Scotland out-door relief is the rule—relief in the poorhouse the exception. Of 119,453 persons receiving relief in Scotland on the 14th May, only about 6,000, or little more than 1 in 20 of their number, were in Poorhouses. Of 53,331 persons receiving relief at the same time in Ireland, only 944 received out-door relief—52,387 were inmates of the workhouses. In Ireland, relief in the workhouse, and only in the workhouse, is the rule—out-door relief the rare and special exception. To this broad difference in the conditions on which relief can be obtained, it is probable that the vast disparity in the ratio of pauperism to population ought mainly to be attributed. That view is strongly corroborated by the fact, that the Irish population residing in Scotland gives a larger proportion of paupers than any part of the native population, and about 20 times as many as an equal population gives in Ulster and Connaught. There are thus two Irish populations, of which the one, residing in Scotland, gives 1 pauper in about 13 of the population, and the other, residing in Ireland, gives (excluding able-bodied) 1 in 274. Yet in Scotland wages are higher, and employment more constant and abundant. It is true that a considerable number of these are persons who must have been paupers wherever they might have resided, and are probably residing in Scotland only because they prefer out-door relief, though purchased at the price of expatriation, to in-door relief at home.

Comparison of Pauperism in the Highlands and in Ireland.

In Ireland, not only is relief given almost exclusively in the workhouse, but the relief there given is in a form less costly, than in the poorhouses in Scotland. In the year ended 29th September 1857, the average weekly cost of food, necessaries, and clothing, for each inmate, was 2s. 2½d. In Scotland, for the year ended 31st December 1857, it was 2s. 11¼d.—a difference equal to nearly £2 per annum in the cost of maintenance for each inmate, the cost in Ireland being at the rate of £5, 14s. 10d., and in Scotland of £7, 12s. 9d. per annum. The maintenance of the 52,387 inmates of the Irish workhouses would therefore have cost about £100,000 per annum more in Scotland than in Ireland.

In the year ended 29th September 1857, Ireland expended on provisions, clothing, necessaries, and out-door relief, for the poor of a population amounting to 6,552,385, no more than £295,096, 4s. 8d.; while in the year ended 14th May 1857, Scotland, with considerably less than half the population, expended for the same purposes £512,988, 0s. 9d. The expenditure for those purposes in Ireland is equal to about $10\frac{3}{4}$d. per head of the population, while in Scotland it is equal to 3s. $6\frac{6}{10}$d. per head. If it had been at the same rate per head as in Ireland, the expenditure for those purposes would have been only £129,391, or £383,597 less than it was. In the four Highland counties, the expenditure for those purposes was £55,281, 3s. $2\frac{1}{2}$d., but at the same rate per head of the population as in Ireland it would have been only £13,187, 11s. 5d.

After maturely weighing all the facts that have been stated, it is difficult to resist the conclusion, that either too small a proportion of the population receives relief in Ireland, or too large a proportion in Scotland, and more especially in the Highlands —or that both conclusions are well founded. The question of relative expenditure, though it cannot be regarded with indifference, is truly but of secondary importance, even to those persons who provide the funds. The primary and paramount consideration must be the moral and social improvement, and the ultimate prosperity and welfare, of the working classes. And after making every reasonable allowance for such difference as there may be between the people of the north of Ireland and of the Highlands of Scotland, it is difficult to believe that two systems, so essentially different, and which lead to so vast a disparity in the proportion of pauperism, can be equally conducive to the moral and social improvement, and the ultimate prosperity, of the masses affected by them. It thus becomes a grave question, with special reference to the interests of the population in the Highlands, how far the present indiscriminate system of out-door relief is calculated to promote or to counteract their improvement and ultimate prosperity.

We are not of opinion that the introduction of the Irish system into any part of this country would be found either necessary or practicable; but we cannot doubt that the extension, to all parts of the Highlands, of the legitimate check afforded by the proper application of the poorhouse test, as it is used in Scotland, has become necessary to correct the evils described in the Report of Mr Briscoe, and of every competent person who has preceded him in the same field of inquiry. We see, too, that in a neighbouring country, and amongst a people of cognate race, whose material condition was nearly similar, such means have been found effectual, not only to correct too great proneness to depend upon extraneous aid, but to promote a helpful spirit of self-reliance. That spirit has been largely called forth in Ireland, where, but a few years ago, it had not been greatly developed, and was even supposed to be deficient. It would be absurd to pretend that the system of Poor Laws established in that country, and the unquestionable efficiency with which it has been administered, have alone called forth that self-relying spirit, but it can hardly be doubted that the various other causes which have contributed to evoke it would have been materially, and perhaps fatally, counteracted by such an indiscriminate system of out-door relief as has hitherto prevailed in the Highlands of Scotland. Comparison of Pauperism in the Highlands and in Ireland.

We have no authority to require the erection of Poorhouses, but we consider it our duty to express to the Parochial Boards our opinion that, with a view to the permanent interests of the population, parishes in the Highlands ought earnestly to consider the means of forming suitable combinations, with a view to the erection of poorhouses in the most advantageous central situations.

During the past year the Visiting Officer of the Board has visited 36 Parishes in the Counties of Lanark, Renfrew, Ayr, and Dumbarton; and investigated and reported to the Board upon the manner in which the duties of the Parochial Officers are performed. He has also visited, and reported upon matters requiring a special inquiry, in the Parishes of Lasswade, Kilmaurs, Wemyss, Falkland, and North Leith, and the Poorhouses of Paisley, Abbey, Govan, Glasgow, Greenock, Barony, New Monkland, Linlithgow, Falkirk, Edinburgh, Dundee, Kelso, Jedburgh, Hawick, and Upper Nithsdale. In the case of each of the Parishes, this Board subsequently made such a communication to the Parochial authorities as the result of the inquiry seemed to require. Visiting Officer.

We have investigated allegations, involving charges, more or less serious, against 21 Inspectors of Poor, and we have been under the necessity of dismissing six of those Officers for neglect or failure to perform their duties. We have also censured or cautioned as to their future conduct 10 Inspectors, whose errors were not of so grave a character as to call for suspension or dismissal; and in the cases of four Inspectors, whose conduct we investigated, we had the satisfaction of finding that the charges were unfounded. Having ascertained that an In- Inspectors.

Inspectors. spector also held the appointment of Sheriff-Officer, and being of opinion that these two offices ought not to be held by the same person, we required him to resign one or other office. In the case of another Inspector, who also held the appointment of Medical Officer, we pursued a similar course. The Inspector of a Parish having become incapable, from advanced age, of personally performing the whole of his duties, and the Parochial Board being anxious to retain his services in those departments for which his strength was still fitted, we required that Board to appoint an Assistant Inspector under the 55th Section of the Statute 8 and 9 Vict. c. 83.

A person who had been dismissed from the office of Inspector in 1851, for grossly immoral conduct towards a female pauper, having been again appointed Inspector in the same Parish, we intimated that we could not permit him to hold the office, and the Parochial Board having urged upon us to re-consider our resolution on the ground that the person in question had borne a good character since his previous dismissal, we replied that, giving all due weight to their statements relative to the change which had taken place in his conduct, and to his capacity, we were of opinion that a man who had been convicted of such an offence could not again be named Inspector. It appeared to us, that Inspectors of Poor must not only be above that offence, but that they must be above the suspicion that intercourse with them involves danger to the poor.

We have likewise investigated charges against four Governors of Poorhouses, and one Matron of a Poorhouse. The proceedings in the case of one Governor were terminated by his resignation; in the case of another we considered it sufficient to caution him. We found the charges against two House Governors and the Matron to be unfounded.

Assessments. Since the date of our last Report, nine Parishes, which had previously raised the funds for the Relief of the Poor by Voluntary Contributions, have resolved to raise those funds by Assessment. The number of Parishes now assessed is 738, and the number that still raise the funds by Voluntary Contributions is 145. The Parochial Boards of 17 Parishes have resolved to change the mode of Assessment or of Classification formerly adopted. In 13 of these, we have sanctioned the proposed change, and in four we have refused to do so. Of the Parishes in which we have sanctioned a change, three have adopted the first mode instead of Established Usage; one has adopted the first mode instead of the third mode; three have adopted the first mode classified, instead of the second mode; one has adopted the first mode classified, instead of the third mode; and five have adopted alterations in the classifications formerly approved.

App. (B.) No. 11.

The progress of the change from Voluntary Contributions to Assessment, during the thirteen years that have elapsed since this Board was formed, has been as follows:— Assessments.

	Assessed.	Voluntary Contributions.
August 1845,	230	650
... 1846,	448	432
... 1847,	558	322
... 1848,	600	280
... 1849,	625	255
... 1850,	644	236
... 1851,	653	228
... 1852,	671	211
... 1853,	680	202
... 1854,	689	194
... 1855,	700	183
... 1856,	716	167
... 1857,	729	154
... 1858,	738	145

In the 883 Parishes and Combinations into which Scotland is now divided, the funds for the Relief of the Poor are raised in the following manner:—

1st Mode, with Classification,	140
Do., without Do.,	534
2d Mode,	10
3d Mode,	25
According to Established Usage,	29
Assessed Parishes,	738
By Voluntary Contributions,	145
Total,	883

A majority in the Parochial Board of Neilston having carried a resolution to change the mode of Assessment, which had been approved by us, and which had, for some time, been in operation in the Parish, we refused to sanction the proposed change, not considering it equitable. The majority, however, still proceeded to impose an Assessment according to the resolution which we had refused to approve, and finding that the payment of a large proportion of the Assessment would be resisted on the ground that the imposition was illegal, did not venture to levy it, yet opposed the imposition of an Assessment in the only mode that was legal. The Parochial Board having thus failed to raise the funds for the relief of the Poor in the manner required by the law, we resolved to apply by summary petition to the Court of Assessments.

Session for the removal of this obstruction in carrying out the Statute. But before that petition had been presented, arrangements were made in the Parish for imposing an Assessment in a legal manner, which obviated the necessity of further proceedings on our part.

Elected Members.

We have increased the number of Members to be elected to the Parochial Board in the Parishes of Peterhead and of Bonhill—in the case of the former from 8 to 10, and in that of the latter from 7 to 8. We have divided the Parish of Gamrie into districts for the purpose of conducting the Election of Elected Members in terms of the powers vested in us by the 24th Section of the Statute.

Having found that some of the Inspectors had inadvertently omitted to hold the Election of Elected Members upon the day fixed by us for that purpose under the Statute, and had thereby endangered the validity of the proceedings at the Election, we deemed it necessary to intimate that we should be compelled to punish any Inspector who so neglected his duty in future.

Poorhouses.

The number of Parishes that have Poorhouses, either singly or in combination, is 131, having an aggregate population of 1,123,119. In 33 Poorhouses at present in operation, the existing accommodation was reported in July to be sufficient for 10,689 inmates. When the Poorhouses which are in progress, or the erection of which has been resolved on, are completed, the number of Parishes having Poorhouses, singly or in combination, will be 215, with an aggregate population of 1,397,818. A considerable number of Parishes, during the past year, have availed themselves of the existing accommodation, by boarding paupers, in terms of the 65th section of the Statute, in the Poorhouses of other Parishes. The number of Parishes that have acquired a right to send Paupers to the Poorhouses belonging to other Parishes is 187, with an aggregate population of 662,633; but some of them are embraced in Combinations for proposed Poorhouses, or propose to have Poorhouses of their own. The population to which Poorhouse accommodation was last year available, amounts to 1,785,752. The Table showing the number of Poorhouses in operation and in progress, and the Parishes forming the various Poorhouse Combinations in Scotland, is printed in the Appendix.

App. (B.) No. 9.

We have approved of the resolution of the Parochial Board of Kirkhope to join the Hawick Poorhouse Combination, and we have given our concurrence to the Combination of five Parishes for the purpose of erecting a Poorhouse at Lochgilphead, in the County of Argyll. The aggregate population of these six Parishes is 13,190. With the concurrence of the other Parishes of the Combination, we have consented to the Parochial Board of Douglas withdrawing from the Combination of Parishes, formed in 1853. That Combination, which had originally been designated the Douglas Combination, will now be referred to as the Carnwath Poorhouse Combination. We refused to approve of a resolution of the Parochial Board of Old Cumnock, to withdraw from the Kyle Poorhouse Combination, because it did not appear to us that the reasons alleged were sufficient, and the proceeding would have caused great inconvenience to the other Parishes which had combined with Old Cumnock. Poorhouses.

We have approved of a Site and Plans for the Poorhouse of the Carnwath Combination—of Plans for the Campbelton Poorhouse—and of Plans for the Kyle Combination Poorhouse to be substituted for those formerly approved. We have also approved of alterations in the Plans for the Cuninghame Combination Poorhouse—sanctioning a slight deviation in the relative position of some portions of the building; and we have approved of Plans for certain alterations of the Greenock Poorhouse.

It is now several years since we approved of the resolutions of the Parochial Boards of certain Parishes in the County of Ross and Cromarty, to form a Combination for the purpose of erecting a common Poorhouse, referred to as the Black Isle Poorhouse Combination. We had subsequently approved of a Site and Plans for the proposed Poorhouse, which the combining Parishes were therefore required by the Statute to erect. This, however, they have failed to do, and we considered it our duty to intimate to the Parochial Boards of the Parishes forming the Combination, that the time had now come when, if immediate measures were not taken to proceed with the erection of a Poorhouse, we should consider the expediency of taking legal proceedings in the matter. The course since adopted by the Combination will, it is hoped, relieve us from the necessity of exercising the power conferred upon us by the Statute, to enforce the execution of the Plans.

In our Twelfth Annual Report we stated that we had called upon the Parochial Board of Perth to take measures for obtaining a site for the Poorhouse which they had resolved to erect. We were again under the necessity of calling upon that Parochial Board to report as to a site, and finally, at their request, we appointed Mr Matheson, the Architect of the Board of Works, and Dr Malcom of Perth, Commissioners, to report upon various sites pointed out by the Parochial Board.

The Poorhouse of the Maybole Combination, which has hitherto been used temporarily, having been acquired by a Railway Company under the authority of an Act of Parliament, will be discontinued, the Parish of Maybole making use of the Rhins of Galloway Poorhouse, until the Parishes of the Combination shall have erected one for themselves.

Poor-houses.

App. (B.) No. 10.

We again print in the Appendix a tabular statement of the present Poorhouse Buildings Debt, showing the sums borrowed for the erection or enlargement of Poorhouse buildings under the 62d section of the 8 and 9 Vict. cap. 83, or the 19 and 20 Vict. cap. 117, sec. 3, the liquidation of the debt during the past year, and the amount of the debt as at May 1858. We regret to be again obliged to repeat that in consequence of the Parochial Accounts being in some Combinations still unadjusted, we can not fully rely upon the accuracy of all the Returns from which the statement has been prepared.

Medical Relief.

App. (B.) No. 8.

We have completed the arrangements for the tenth distribution of the Parliamentary Grant of L.10,000 in aid of Medical Relief to the Poor in Scotland. 660 Parishes resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the Grant, but of these only 634 have established their claims by producing vouchers for the required amount of expenditure from their own funds, and otherwise satisfying us that the conditions of the Grant had been fulfilled. Last year 646 Parishes had resolved to participate, but only 621 established their claims. The increase this year in the number actually participating is therefore 13. The detailed account of the distribution, showing the amount expended on Medical Relief afforded to the Poor, for which vouchers have been produced; the sum apportioned to it from the Grant; and the additional sum, proportionate to the excess of its vouched expenditure beyond the minimum, assigned out of the unappropriated shares to each participating Parish, will be found in the Appendix.

The whole sum expended on Medical Relief to the Poor during the year ended 14th May last, according to the returns, was L.24,948, 17s. 9¼d., which is equal to 2·07 pence per head of the population of Scotland in 1851. The population of the 660 Parishes and Combinations that have resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the Grant is 2,462,960, and of the 222 Parishes that have not so resolved, 425,782. The sum expended by the former, according to the Returns, was L.23,081, 3s. 2¼., equal to about 2·24 pence per head of the population; and that by the latter was L.1,867, 14s. 7d., equal to about 1·05 pence per head of the population of those Parishes.

Insane and Fatuous Paupers.

The number of cases of Lunatic Paupers in which application was made to us to dispense with the removal to an asylum, during the period from the 14th May to the 31st December 1857, was 242. In 222 cases we dispensed, and in 20 cases we refused to dispense, with removal to an asylum.

By the Statute 20 and 21 Vic. c. 71, which came into operation upon the 1st day of January 1858, certain provisions respecting lunatic paupers, contained in the 59th section of the Statute 8 and 9 Vic. c. 83, were repealed, and the power to dispense with the removal of such persons to an asylum, previously vested in the Board of Supervision, was transferred to the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy for Scotland. In consequence of this change in the law, we issued a circular, dated 26th January 1858, in which we intimated that inspectors of poor would no longer be required to make half-yearly returns of lunatic paupers to us, on the 1st of January and 1st of July. But we required that, in the annual return of the Number of Poor, inspectors should specify the number of lunatics, male and female, on the roll during the year; the number who have been cured, died, or ceased to receive relief; and their distribution in asylums, poorhouses, and private dwellings.

Insane and Fatuous Paupers.

App. (A.) No. 2.

From the returns for the year ended 14th May last, it appears that the whole number of lunatic paupers chargeable to parishes in Scotland for any period, however short in duration, during the year ended 14th May 1858, was 5,564; that of these, 926 died, or were cured, or had ceased to receive relief as lunatic paupers during the same year—the whole number of lunatic paupers at the 14th May was therefore 4,638. Of these, 2,463 were reported as in asylums at the date of the return; 474 as in poorhouses; and 1,701 as in private dwellings, and resident with relatives or other parties.

The jurisdiction in regard to the "Insane or Fatuous Poor," which was exercised by this Board under the Statute 8 and 9 Vic. c. 83, commenced when the Board met for the first time in September 1845, and terminated on the 1st January 1858, when the Lunacy (Scotland) Act came into operation, and the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy entered upon the exercise of their functions. It may therefore be right shortly to state the number and distribution of that class of the poor, at different dates, during those twelve years.

In October 1845, the Board directed their attention to the duties imposed upon them in regard to the Insane and Fatuous Poor. They called for returns of the persons chargeable as such in each parish, and also for returns of the amount of vacant accommodation in all the public asylums and licenced madhouses in Scotland. The machinery by which the administration of the Poor Law was to be conducted under the Statute had not yet been fully established. In many parishes the parochial officers had not yet been named, and some months elapsed before returns of the "Insane or Fatuous Poor" could be obtained; but on the 20th July 1846, returns of that class of the poor were made by all the parishes, and returns had also been received from the asylums and licenced houses, showing the amount of vacant accommodation. From these it appeared that the number of Insane or Fatuous Poor, chargeable in terms of the 59th sect. of the Statute, was 3,023, of whom 1,402 were either in public asylums, licenced houses, or poorhouses, and 1,621 residing in private dwellings with relations or other persons. The vacant accommodation in the public asylums was found to be sufficient for not more than 82 persons, and in the licenced houses for 52, making a total of 134 vacancies. The available accommodation was thus insufficient for even one-tenth of the number residing in private dwellings.

On the 14th May 1855, the number of Insane or Fatuous Poor, returned to this Board as chargeable to the parishes in Scotland, was 3,904, being an increase, in about nine years, of 881—or, on the average, about 98 per annum. Of the 3,904 then chargeable, 2,538 were in public asylums, licenced houses, or poorhouses, being an increase of the number in those establishments amounting to 1,136 in about nine years, or an average increase of about 126 per annum, while the average increase in the number chargeable was but 98. The number residing with relations and elsewhere was, at the same date, 1,366, being a decrease of 255 since July 1846. Thus, in those nine years, a number equal not only to the total increase, but also to 255 of the cases chargeable prior to the 20th July 1846, and then in private dwellings, had been placed in public or private asylums or poorhouses before May 1855, when the Lunacy Commission commenced its inquiries.

On the 1st July 1856, the total number returned as chargeable to the parishes was 4,007, being an increase since 14th May 1855, or in 13½ months, of 103, which is a little below the previous average of 98 per annum, or 8⅙ per month, and considerably less than the increase in some preceding years. Up to the 14th May 1857, the annual increase, which had been progressive for several years, showed no remarkable change, and did not exceed what it had been for some of the years prior to May 1855. Two years had already elapsed since the Royal Commission had commenced the inquiry, which was prosecuted on their behalf by the constables all over the country, and in the course of which the Commissioners had personally visited all the more populous parishes, as well as many others. That inquiry could not fail both to direct the attention of the local Boards—the parochial authorities—to the subject, and to lead them, in almost all cases, to amend their returns, if they had previously been defective; but it did not produce any remarkable or unusual increase in the number of Insane and Fatuous Poor returned to this Board.

Insane and Fatuous Paupers.

After the appearance and promulgation of the Report of the Commissioners, and the discussions to which it gave rise, but more especially after the Act 20 and 21 Vic. c. 70 had been passed, the increase in the number of Insane or Fatuous Poor suddenly became great,* though not perhaps greater than might have been anticipated. It was evident from the Report of the Commissioners, that the term "Lunatic," as interpreted by them, comprehended a numerous class of persons who had not been comprehended in the terms "Insane or Fatuous," of the 59th sect. of the Poor Law Act, as interpreted by the local Boards, by the medical officers, by the inspectors, and by this Board. As soon, therefore, as it became generally known that the Commissioners had officially represented the returns made to this Board as erroneous, (because they did not include amongst the "Insane or Fatuous" all the paupers who, according to the views of the Commissioners, were "Lunatics,") many of the inspectors, and of the medical officers, considered it their duty to return as lunatics, persons whom they had not previously considered it proper to return as "Insane or Fatuous," in terms of the 59th sect. of the Poor Law Act.

The number returned as chargeable on the 1st January 1858 was 4,475, and on the 14th May 1858 was 4,638; being an increase since July 1856, or in somewhat less than two years, of 631, of which by much the greater part occurred in the last of those years.

We have stated that the total number returned as chargeable on the 20th July 1846 was 3,023, of whom 1,402 were in public or private asylums or poorhouses, and 1,621 residing with relations or other persons. The total number returned as chargeable on the 1st January 1858 was 4,475, of whom 2,864 were in asylums or poorhouses, and 1,611 residing with relations or other persons. The increase in the total number returned was thus 1,452, and the increase of the number in asylums and poorhouses 1,462. The number placed in those establishments had therefore more than doubled, and somewhat exceeded, the total increase in the number of Insane or Fatuous Poor who had become chargeable from the date of the first return received by this Board, to the day when the supervision of that class of poor was transferred to the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy. During the whole of that time we had been left, without any legislative assistance, to contend with an acknowledged deficiency of accommodation, accompanied by a progressive increase in the number of Insane or Fatuous Poor, yet we succeeded, with the aid of the Parochial Boards, in preventing any increase of the number residing in private dwellings, which was somewhat less on the 1st January 1858 than it had been on the 20th July 1846.

Of the 4,638 returned as chargeable on the 14th May 1858, there were in asylums or poorhouses 2,937, and with relations and other persons 1,701. It therefore appears that while the increase in the total number, as compared with that on the 1st January 1858, was 163, the increase in asylums and poorhouses was only 73; and the number residing with relatives and other persons, which was 1,611 on the 1st January, had risen on 14th May to 1,701.

Although the inspectors and medical officers may generally have yielded to the views of the Lunacy Board as to the persons who ought to be reported and returned as lunatics, some of those officers have been unable conscientiously to adopt those views in particular cases, and some of these the Board of Commissioners in Lunacy have brought before us, with a view to determine the respective limits of the jurisdiction and responsibility of each Board in regard to them. In other cases the inspectors, pressed to return as lunatics persons whom their medical officers, and the other local medical men, would not certify to be lunatics, have applied to us for advice. The correspondence on these subjects which has passed between the two Boards is printed in the Appendix, and will sufficiently explain itself. Before that correspondence had commenced, we had sought the opinion of counsel on several points connected with the Lunacy (Scotland) Act, and especially on the precise legal meaning of the word "Lunatic," as interpreted in the 3d Sect. of that Statute. This opinion, which will be found in the Appendix, we communicated to the Board of Lunacy, but, although both Boards were, no doubt, equally desirous to advance the public service, it became evident that the Lunacy Board contemplated giving to the word "Lunatic" in the Statute, a meaning more comprehensive than we could adopt, especially after obtaining the opinion of counsel referred to. The statement of that Board in their letter of the 31st July, in regard to what constitutes fatuity, though modified by subsequent explanations, showed that they likewise contemplated giving to that term a more extended application than we could concur in. With a view, therefore, to avoid any appearance of trenching upon the proper province of that Board, and more especially to avoid the serious inconvenience that could not fail to result from a conflict of opinion between the two Boards in their communications with the same local authorities, we intimated that, abstaining from giving any opinion in doubtful cases, we should leave it to the Board of Lunacy to ascertain which of the Paupers are "Lunatic" in the meaning of the Statute, and should consider all who are so ascertained to be lunatic as under the jurisdiction of that Board.

Insane and Fatuous Paupers. App. (A.) No. 3.

The General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy having called upon the parishes and combinations which had poorhouses to obtain from that Board licences for the reception of lunatics, if they desired to place any such persons in the poorhouses, application was made to us, by several of those parishes and combinations, for our sanction to such alterations in the houses, and changes in the rules, as might enable them to meet the requirements of the Board of Lunacy. But on examining the matter, it appeared to us to be very doubtful whether that Board could legally licence a poorhouse for the reception of lunatics; and having consulted counsel, we found them clearly of opinion that a poorhouse could not be held to be either a public or a private asylum, in the meaning of the Statute, and could not be licenced as such by the Board of Lunacy, under the Lunacy Act. It thus appeared that any such licence which had been granted by that Board was invalid, and that while the district asylums, required by the Lunacy Act to be erected, had not yet been commenced, lunatics could no longer be legally placed or detained in the poorhouses. We therefore brought the matter to the notice of the legal advisers of the Crown; and the difficulty was removed by the Act of the last Session of Parliament, which authorised the Lunacy Board to licence, for the reception of lunatics, and for a limited time, certain detached or separate portions of poorhouses.

Complaints of Inadequate Relief. App (B.) Nos. 2 and 3.

The number of applications complaining of Inadequate Relief that have been before us during the year ended 30th June 1857, has been 495. In the immediately preceding year, the number was 488.

The subjoined table exhibits the number of such applications in each year since this Board was formed, and the manner in which they have been disposed of:—

Cost of Relief and Management. App (B.) Nos. 4 and 5.

The sum expended for the Relief and Management of the Poor during the year ended 14th May 1858, including L.3,623, 3s. 7¼d. expended on buildings not being authorised Poorhouses, and L.14,443, 1s. 8¼d. expended on authorised Poorhouse Buildings, has been L.640,700, 15s. 1¼d. In the preceding year, the expenditure for the same purposes was L.636,372, 4s. 9¾d. There has therefore been an increase in the expenditure of L.4,328, 10s. 3½d.

The following table presents a comparative statement of the sums expended for the Relief and Management of the Poor for the last thirteen years, arranged under the different heads of expenditure, together with the rate per head of the population, calculated for the first five years on the census of 1841, and for the last eight years on the census of 1851. The rate per cent. on the annual value of real property, as returned in 1843, is also stated.

Cost of Relief and Management.

Cost of Relief and Management.

Although it has been thought desirable, for the purpose of comparison with former years, to show in the preceding table the rate per cent. on the annual value of real property, as returned in 1843, it is right to state, that according to the annual value returned in 1856, the rate per cent. for the last year would be L.5, 9s. 6¼d.

The increase in the expenditure is chiefly under the heads of Relief to the Registered and Casual Poor, and under that of Management; and the counties in which the most marked increase in the expenditure on the relief of Registered and Casual Poor occurs are Argyll, Ayr, Edinburgh, Lanark, Perth, and Renfrew. In the counties of Dumfries, Lanark, and Renfrew, the expenditure on Management considerably exceeds that of last year, and a slighter increase appears to have been general over the country. In the few counties in which there was no increase, the expenditure under this head continued to be nearly the same as in the preceding year.

The decrease in the expenditure on Poorhouse Buildings appears to arise from the circumstance that the payments on account of building the Stirling and Dundee Poorhouses were returned as expended in 1857, while there is reason to believe that the sums borrowed for that purpose remain as debts, to be paid off from the parochial funds in future years.

The expenditure under the head of General Sanitary Measures not being now a charge upon the poor funds, but falling to be regulated under the provisions of the Nuisances Removal Act, is not included in the returns by the Inspectors of Poor, there is consequently an apparent decrease under that head of expenditure.

The total sum expended under the heads of Relief to the Poor on the Roll, or Registered, and to the Casual Poor, for the last thirteen years, was—

There is thus a decrease in the average allowance of 1¾d. compared with last year; but this decrease is not nearly equivalent to the decrease in the cost of provisions. Cost of Relief and Management

There appears to be a general impression that the rate or scale of relief—that is, the amount received by each pauper—is very small in Scotland compared with what it is in England, and that this difference is even greater than the difference in the habits and domestic economy of the inhabitants of the two countries can account for. It is therefore desirable to ascertain the actual extent of the difference; but it is not easy to ascertain it with perfect accuracy. This can hardly be accomplished by comparing particular cases, for scarcely are any two cases exactly alike in all their particulars, nor would it be safe to rely on a comparison of particular parishes, because there are almost always special circumstances affecting one or other of them. The nearest approximation that can be made to an accurate comparison will probably be by the division, in both cases, of the total amount expended in a year on in-maintenance and out-door relief, by the number of persons of all classes who were receiving relief on a given day in that year. This will not give the actual amount received by any one pauper, but it will give the average rate for each, and thus determine with considerable accuracy the comparative scale of the relief. Comparison of Poor Relief in Scotland and in England.

The Poor Law divisions of England numbered 9 and 10, which comprise the West, East, and North Ridings of York, and the Counties of Durham, Northumberland, Cumberland, and Westmoreland, have an aggregate population (in 1851) of 2,569,703, the population of Scotland being 2,888,742. The inhabitants of both are engaged in similar occupations, being partly agricultural, partly manufacturing, partly mining, and partly maritime, in proportions not greatly dissimilar.

In the year ended 25th March 1857, the sum expended on in-maintenance, out-door relief, and maintenance of lunatics in asylum in those English counties was L.427,924, which, divided by 99,846, the number of persons of all classes who were receiving relief on the 1st July 1856, gives L.4, 5s. 8½d. for each. But the number receiving relief on the 1st January 1857 was 101,555, and the sum expended, divided by that number, gives for each L.4, 4s. 3¼d. In ordinary circumstances the number relieved on the 1st January is above, and on the 1st July below the average of the year, and the mean of the two results, which is about L.4, 5s., will be very nearly the average for those English counties.

The number of persons receiving relief in Scotland on the 14th May 1857 (and which is probably very nearly the average of the year), was 119,453, including all classes; and the sum returned as expended on in-maintenance, out-door relief, and maintenance of lunatics in asylum in the year ended 14th May 1857, was L.512,988, which, divided by the number receiving relief, gives for each L.4, 5s. 10½d.

It appears, therefore, that the average rate or scale of relief —that which goes towards the maintenance of each pauper— is a fraction higher in Scotland than in those English counties. It also appears that the expenditure for the purposes above stated, is in those counties equal to 3s. $3\frac{3}{10}$d. per head of the population, and in Scotland to 3s. $6\frac{6}{10}$d. per head. The ratio of pauperism to population in the English counties (taking the mean of the numbers receiving relief on 1st July and 1st January) is 1 in 25·51. In Scotland it is 1 in 24·18.

Thus the proportion of the population receiving relief, the scale of relief and the rate per head required to provide it, are all somewhat higher in Scotland than in the English counties with which it has now been compared.

If to those counties, constituting the 9th and 10th Poor Law Divisions, we add the counties of Lancaster and Chester, forming the 8th Division, we shall have an aggregate population of 5,045,558, with an aggregate expenditure for the purposes above mentioned, in the year ended 25th March 1857, of L.806,241, and a total of 188,480 persons of all classes receiving relief (taking the mean of the numbers on 1st July 1856, and 1st January 1857), which gives L.4, 5s. 6¾d. for each. The rate per head of the population required to provide that relief is 3s. $2\frac{3}{10}$d.; and the proportion of persons receiving relief is 1 in 26·76 of the population. In Scotland, as has been stated, the average amount for each person receiving relief is L.4, 5s. 10½d., the rate per head of the population 3s. $6\frac{6}{10}$d., and the proportion receiving relief 1 in 24·18.

In those three important divisions of England, therefore, which comprise the counties of Northumberland, Durham, Cumberland, Westmoreland, York, Lancaster, and Chester, including the greatest manufacturing and mining districts in England, the proportion of the population receiving relief, the scale on which relief is given, and the rate per head of the population required to provide it, are all somewhat lower than in Scotland, including the Highlands, the Hebrides, and the Orkney and Shetland Islands.

This result must cause some surprise to all who have been accustomed to consider the provision for the relief of the poor in Scotland as niggardly, compared with the liberality of those wealthy districts in England.

In the Highland and Island districts of Scotland, in consequence of the form in which a considerable part of the relief to the poor is given, the comparative rate or scale of relief cannot be ascertained with so close an approximation to accuracy, as in those cases in which the whole amount of the relief is represented by the expenditure. In addition to the amount so represented, nearly all the paupers in the Highlands and Islands are provided with dwellings, for which no rent is charged to the Parochial Boards, and a great majority grow potatoes and prepare peats for their own use, without, in either case, having to pay anything for the ground. The value of this accommodation and contribution to their maintenance was estimated in official returns, after careful investigation, at 7d. per week on the average, or about one-half of what would be charged for it in the Lowlands. From subsequent inquiries it appears that the rent for this accommodation, when let to non-paupers, varies in different parts of the Highlands from L.3 to L.1, 10s., and 7d. a week is equal to L.1, 10s. 4d. per annum. Estimating it therefore at L.1, 10s., that addition must be made to the expenditure, but it cannot be made for every person receiving relief, because the same accommodation serves for all the members of one family. The registered poor, with few exceptions, are either heads of families or single adult persons having separate dwellings, but such of these as reside in towns generally occupy lodgings, for which rent is paid and charged in the expenditure. It is difficult, therefore, to ascertain with accuracy in what number of cases the addition of L.1, 10s. ought to be made; but in the four principal Highland counties —Argyle, Inverness, Ross and Sutherland—it may be estimated with a probable approach to accuracy. The total number of persons of all classes receiving relief in those counties on the 14th May 1857 was 16,115. Of these 9,946 were separate cases of registered poor requiring lodgings, and estimating the whole number provided with the accommodation referred to, at 8000, or something less than one-half of the total number receiving relief, we shall probably not be very far from the actual number. But 8000 at L.1, 10s. will give L.12,000 to be added to the expenditure returned for those four counties.

Comparison of Poor Relief in Scotland and in England.

In the year ended 14th May 1857, the amount returned as expended in those counties on in-maintenance, out-door relief, and maintenance of the insane in asylum was L.55,281, 13s., to which is now to be added L.12,000, the estimated amount for accommodation not charged in the returns, making the total for those purposes L.67,281, 13s., which, divided by 16,115, the number of all classes receiving relief, gives for each L.4, 3s. 6d. The corresponding amount in the divisions 9 and 10 in England is L.4, 5s. It therefore appears that the rate or scale of relief in those Highland counties is less by 1s. 6d. per annum, or about one farthing per week, than in the north of England.

Comparison of Poor Relief in Scotland and in England.

In these comparisons which have been instituted for no other purpose than, as far as possible, to ascertain the truth, it is curious to observe how very closely the rate or scale of relief approximates in different places, not only under a great variety of circumstances, but under the control of a great number of separate local Boards, which have little intercourse or communication one with another. The most rigid centralization could hardly have produced greater uniformity than has been arrived at by the independent action of the local administrations.*

Number of Poor.

The number of Registered Poor on the 14th May 1858, was 79,199, being a decrease of 18 since the same date last year.

App. (B.) No. 6.

The number of Poor who have died or ceased to receive Relief during the past year, was 20,418, making the whole number of Poor relieved by order of the Parochial Boards, and admitted by their respective parishes to be properly chargeable to them, 99,617. For the previous year the corresponding number was 98,632. The number of Casual or Unregistered Poor was 44,847, being an increase, as compared with the preceding year, of 8,314. The number of Adult Casual Poor relieved on the 1st of January 1858, was 4,832, or 1,719 more than on 1st January 1857; and on the 1st July 1858, the number was 3,152, being 254 more than on the same day in 1857. The whole number of Registered and Casual Poor returned as relieved during the year ended 14th May 1858, was 144,464, and the corresponding number for the previous year was 135,165, showing an increase of 9,299.

The following is a Statement of the Number of Poor relieved in Scotland, according to the Returns received by this Board.

Number of Poor.

Although there has been an increase in the number of Registered Poor relieved during the year of 985, there has been a decrease of 18 as at 14th May. The increase in the number of Casual Poor relieved in the course of last year appears to have arisen chiefly in the counties of Ayr and Renfrew. In the parish of Paisley alone 1035 able-bodied unemployed destitute persons, with 2729 dependents, were relieved by the Parochial Board, and are returned as Casual Poor.

During the last winter serious distress occurred amongst the working-classes in some of the manufacturing districts, and especially in Glasgow. The intervention of this Board was at first requested by the Relief Committee formed in that city; but having entire confidence in the intelligence, good spirit, and efficiency of the local authorities and the Inspectors of the three populous Parishes in which the distress chiefly prevailed, we abstained from interfering; and the result has fully justified the confidence we reposed in them. Judicious and effective measures were promptly taken—funds were raised by voluntary local contributions, and Relief Committees aided by the experience and intelligence of the Inspectors, and co-operating with the Parochial Boards, met the emergency with judgment and entire success. Before the close of the spring, employment had become more abundant, and the difficulty had been overcome without so great an amount of suffering as had been feared, and, as must have been endured, had the measures to prevent it been less promptly taken, or less efficiently conducted. It is due to the suffering portion of the working-classes to add, that in general their conduct was highly creditable, and that the exceptions were chiefly amongst the idle and the dissolute, who do not truly belong to the industrious, working class, and who are at all times in difficulty, if not in distress.

The returns of the number of Poor for the past four years show the number of dependents on the various classes of Poor. The Casual Poor have been distinguished into such as were relieved by the Inspector on his own responsibility, and such as were relieved by order of the Parochial Board, and whose settlements being still undetermined, are not classed with the Registered Poor of any parish. The following is a statement of the general results upon this subject for the last four years.

Number of Poor.

	1855.	1856.	1857.	1858.
Number of Registered Poor relieved during the year,	100,560	99,363	98,632	99,617

Number of Registered Poor who have died or ceased to receive relief during the year,	20,673	19,390	19,415	20,418
Number of Dependents of such Registered Poor,	6,382	8,221	10,253	8,784
Number of Casual or Unregistered Poor relieved during the year,	42,863	38,020	36,533	44,827
So classed because of Undetermined Settlements,	3,114	4,442	3,615	5,486
Dependents of such,	2,327	3,998	3,393	5,303
All other Casual Poor,	39,749	33,578	32,918	39,361
Dependents of such,	26,454	26,384	26,237	32,932
Number of Poor removed from Parish Voluntarily or by Warrant,	2,163	1,698	1,573	2,023
Number of their Dependents,	1,708	1,528	1,273	1,840

The number of Adult Casual Poor relieved on the 1st January 1858, was 4,832, and of their Children and Orphans or Deserted Children, 5,409. The number of the former relieved on 1st July 1858, was 3,152, and of their Children, and Orphans or Deserted Children, 2,974.

Church Collections.

The whole sum derived from Church Collections in assessed Parishes during the year ending May 1858 was L.16,556, 6s. 7¾d., of which L.8,889, 1s. 10½d. is stated to have been expended on Relief of the Poor. From this sum, however, must be deducted L.208, 15s. 2½d. handed over to the Parochial Boards. It would appear, therefore, that the sum of L.8,680, 6s. 8½d., derived from Church Collections, was actually applied by the Kirk Sessions to the relief of persons in their respective Parishes who required assistance. But these funds are generally employed to afford aid to persons who have fallen into temporary difficulties, with a view to prevent them from becoming chargeable to the Parish as Paupers; and it is probable that few of the persons so assisted, have also been chargeable to the funds raised by assessment.

App. (B.) No. 7.

Education.

A Roman Catholic clergyman in Perth having commenced the formation of a School for poor children of that persuasion, demanded of the Parochial Board a yearly allowance for the support of the School, on the ground that, as Roman Catholics pay Poor Rates, they have a legal right to such an allowance.

Education. The Parochial Board applied for our advice as to the nature and extent of their legal obligations in that respect, stating at the same time, that the amount of Poor Rates paid by Roman Catholics in the Parish was very small; and that the Pauper children of that denomination had hitherto been educated, with the consent of their parents, at the same Schools as the other Pauper children.

App. (A.) No. 5. We communicated to the Parochial Board the Minute which is printed in the Appendix to the effect that Education is part of the Relief which Parochial Boards are bound to give to Pauper children—that parents or legal guardians are the only persons who are entitled to determine the religious tenets to be taught to their children or wards; and that, in fulfilling the obligation to give Education as a part of Relief, the Parochial Board has no right to give it, or to permit it to be given, in such a manner as to counteract the wishes which the parents or legal guardians may have intimated, in regard to the religious tenets to be inculcated—that where there is a properly conducted School of the religious denomination to which a Pauper child belongs, and where it is the practice, as it is in Perth, to send Pauper children to the ordinary schools of the place, then, if the parent or guardian intimates a desire to that effect, the child ought to be sent to the School of its own denomination, and to be there paid for by the Parochial Board, at the same rate of School fees as is usually paid for Pauper children at the other Schools; but that the Parochial Board is not, in any case, legally bound to contribute, otherwise than by the payment of such School fees, to the establishment or maintenance of separate Schools for each of the various denominations to which any of the Pauper children and the ratepayers may happen to belong.

Applications to Sheriffs, App. (B.) No. 1. Returns of legal proceedings under the Statute, in the Sheriff Courts, have again been furnished to us by the courtesy of the Sheriffs-Substitute, and an abstract of them is inserted in the Appendix.

The total number of applications to Sheriffs, on the ground that relief had been improperly refused, as returned by the Sheriffs-Substitute, was, during the past year, 545, while in the Returns for the preceding year, the number of such applications was 379. These numbers, however, fall short of the actual number of applications, as will be seen by the notes appended to the Returns from Glasgow, Paisley, Edinburgh, &c. The number of such applications in which Sheriffs felt called upon to grant interim orders of relief during the past year was 310. In the preceding year it was 299. The number of applicants admitted to the Roll of Paupers by final order of the Sheriff during the past year was 80; in the preceding year, 64. The average annual number of such interim orders during the 11 preceding years was 575; and of such final orders, 145. Applications to Sheriffs, App. (B.) No. 1.

The number of prosecutions under the 79th and 80th sections of the Statute during the past year has been 111, and of convictions, 74. In the previous year the number of such prosecutions was 133, and of convictions, 94. The average annual number of such prosecutions during the 11 preceding years was 203, and of convictions, 138.

We are sorry to have to notice and correct errors in the summation of some of the Tables in our Twelfth Annual Report —the first that have been discovered since this Board was formed. The professional Accountant whom we had employed for several years to make those summations, and with whose care and accuracy we had hitherto found reason to be satisfied, happened to be in bad health when this duty last devolved upon him, and to this circumstance we attribute the mistakes that occurred. They were discovered by our Visiting Officer, but not until the Report had been printed and laid before Parliament; and as the best mode of correcting them which in these circumstances was available to us, we have reprinted in a corrected form (and annex to this Report), the pages of our Twelfth Annual Report and Appendix in which those errors occurred, or which were affected by them. This will enable persons who preserve the Report to substitute the corrected pages for those which are vitiated by the errors referred to.

The Accountant in question has spontaneously relinquished our employment.

In pursuance of the powers conferred upon us by the 5th Section of the Nuisances Removal (Scotland) Act, 1856, we have, during the past year, examined applications from 29 Parishes to determine the local authority, to execute the Act within these Parishes respectively. In five of these cases, the applications were subsequently withdrawn; in 22 cases we named, after investigation, one or other of the statutory bodies (as in each case seemed most expedient) to be the local authority for the whole Parish. With regard to one Parish, from which an application was made, we entertained doubts as to whether, in the circumstances of that Parish, we were entitle Removal of Nuisances Act.

Removal of Nuisances Act.

to exercise the powers vested in us by the 5th Section of the Statute. And in the case of another Parish, in which we had previously determined that the Parochial Board should be the local authority, we declined to cancel that arrangement.

In the Parish of Stirling, in which, upon the statutory application, we had nominated the Town Council of the Burgh to be the local authority, the householders of the Burgh subsequently adopted the Police and Improvement (Scotland) Act (13 and 14 Vict. c. 33), and thereby Police Commissioners were constituted within the Parish. Application was then made to us to nominate the Police Commissioners to be the local authority under the Nuisances Removal Act in place of the Town Council. As it did not appear to us to be clear that the provisions of the 5th Section of the Statute authorised us to entertain this second application, when we had already exercised our powers in terms of that Section, we deemed it expedient to obtain the opinion of Counsel as to the extent of our power in this respect. Being advised by Counsel that it was competent for us to entertain a second application in such a case, and being of opinion that the change proposed in Stirling was advisable, we nominated the Police Commissioners the local authority for the Parish in lieu of the Town Council.

We have the honour to be,

No. 1. Report by H. Harrison Briscoe, Esq., General Superintendent of the Poor, Scotland, for the half year ended 31st March 1858.

I visited only 65 paupers in the parish of Latheron, in consequence of the inspector not being well.

The total number of paupers visited this half year was 2140; the very great majority of whom were only accessible by walking, from the description of the country and ground, involving very great labour.

An inspector never knew when his parish was to be visited, nor the localities intended to be visited.

By the Pay-Roll the names and residences of paupers were ascertained, and by the maps routes were decided upon, which always included the more remote districts of the parish.

Being always accompanied by an inspector, I was enabled to make many suggestions relative to his particular duties; and when any matter required the interference of the Parochial Board, I requested he would direct their attention to it.

Any subject that showed neglect on the part of the Parochial Board, the inspector, or the medical officer, I stated in my parish reports.

Imposition.

There is no doubt but Parochial Boards and inspectors have much difficulty in ascertaining the necessity in many cases of affording relief, in consequence of the universal desire of getting parish funds, and the practice of every species of imposition openly and without shame.

I have witnessed a great number of instances of feigning all sorts of diseases and infirmities, although the parties were evidently perfectly healthy.

A pauper woman was walking fast and well; but when she knew who I was she tumbled about the road as if unable to walk without assistance.

An able-bodied middle-aged single woman met me on the road, and requested that the inspector should be directed to give relief to her father, an old man who was very sick and had not means to support himself.

During the day, when not expected, I called at the man's house: the only person living with him was the daughter who made the complaint to me. The man was strong and healthy—he had a nice croft, two cows, and I saw two persons threshing his corn: his house was comfortable, his daughter had part of it for a shop and sold groceries, etc.

An able-bodied pauper man, aged 32, not very wise, but fond of working, when asked what he was crying for, said—"My mother beat me, and always does when I work, as she would lose the poor money."

Inspectors have informed me that, as the allowances to lunatics and idiots were of the highest amount, many feigned madness; and parents often represented that their children were lunatics or idiots who were not so.

Inspectors state that there are many instances of parties, not fit objects for relief, when threatened to be struck off the Roll, saying they will turn mad, and then the parish, they say, must send them to an asylum at great expense. This often induces inspectors to continue relief.

Some inspectors stated that, great numbers of their paupers had as good credit with merchants and publicans as farmers had.

Parents state they have given up their holdings to sons or sons-in-law: they then apply for relief, and if obtained, their children soon seek payment for lodging them.

Feeling as to the Law of Relief.

The people imagine that the law compels Parochial Boards to give relief when applied for, that they have no discretion in the matter. When refused, they at once threaten an appeal to the Sheriff. This, with many inspectors, had the desired effect of procuring relief, when it was evident the parties were not fit objects to be relieved.

When once relieved, it is considered that the parish must do everything. An able-bodied woman (a pauper) said to me, that a small part of the wall of her house let in air. I told her that in a quarter of an hour she could cure it with wet clay. She said it was the business of the Board, and she would not do it. This woman was very comfortable, and at my visit was using an Italian iron for the frills of her caps.

A pauper man, who could work moderately, had seven children, all of whom would have been taken by friends. He refused to let them go, saying the parish must support them; he disliked the chairman, and he was determined to make the parish suffer.

When houses get out of repair, and paupers can repair them, they refuse to do it.

I saw ten acres of land which, at a considerable expense, had been subsoiled, and the stones brought to the surface by the proprietor. It did not require draining—the stones were small and could be removed with a handbarrow. The proprietor offered this land for several years at a mere nominal rent, provided the stones were taken off. There were a great many houses adjoining this land, within a few yards of it. No person would take any part of the land: it had been subsoiled for three years. In many of these houses were paupers who had able-bodied sons and daughters. Some of the paupers were able to do the work.

Paupers not fit objects of Relief.

The following are a few of numerous similar cases on the Roll. The particulars I obtained from the parties, and my own observation, which, if not known to the Parochial Boards, could have been easily ascertained —they, therefore, cannot be considered as cases of imposition.

A man, aged 84, and wife healthy, a crofter, with two cows, a horse and cart, pays 2s. 6d. a year of rent; one son and two daughters, all able-bodied, living with him.

A healthy widow (80), a croft, corn, a cow; she has living with her two able-bodied sons (single) fishermen, the owners of a large boat, two able-bodied daughters, all these constantly employed. She has also a son, a kirk-officer.

An able-bodied widow, aged 34, she has three children, 5, 7, and 9. She keeps a school, is a dressmaker, and keeps at work four apprentices.

A healthy man, a crofter, has two cows, a horse and cart, two able-bodied daughters living with him; one son a shepherd, and three sons labourers, not with him.

An able-bodied widow, for a child of 13; she has no other family; she is a crofter, has corn, and two cows.

A man (65) and wife, both healthy—the only child with him is an able-bodied daughter; this man is a crofter, three cows, two stirks, a horse and cart. He has a son a coal contractor in Glasgow, and another a guard on a railway.

A single able-bodied woman (50) a dressmaker.

A meal-merchant, well off, receives relief for a son of 14, who has a defect in his legs.

An able-bodied single woman (49), is in service with a comfortable farmer.

An able-bodied single woman (49), is a dressmaker, keeping three apprentices working.

A woman, who has palsy to a slight degree; her husband is a master cooper, his house well furnished. This person keeps a servant as well dressed as those in gentlemen's establishments.

An able-bodied widow (30), has one child (10). She keeps a shop, and is a licensed dealer in groceries and tobacco.

A healthy widow (29), with four children, 4 to 11. She keeps a well stored shop, is a licensed dealer in groceries and tobacco. I saw in her shop eight large cheeses, bread, meal, potatoes, medicines, oranges, valentines. This woman and children were dressed as well as a thriving shopkeeper's family. She has her shop for more than two years; when she first set up she had L.70, either of her own or was lent it.

A healthy young widow, with two children, is housekeeper to a benevolent institution, and has apartments in the house.

A single healthy woman (55), keeps a good lodging-house, and has five tradesmen constantly lodging with her.

A single man (31), an ulcer on his leg, earns from L.10 to L.15 a year breaking stones: he refused 1s. 6d. a day to smear sheep.

A man and able-bodied wife, with two able-bodied daughters with him, is a crofter, has a cow, potatoes, hay, turnips.

A single healthy woman, has a small croft and cow: she is a gatekeeper at a gentleman's lodge.

A healthy man (lame), is a gatekeeper: he keeps a pony, and is a road-contractor.

A healthy woman (35), a little lame, is a servant with a sheriff-officer.

A healthy woman, for her two illegitimate children: she is a cook in a first-class hotel in the parish.

A pauper, relieved for a long period, who, if his name was put on the Roll, would refuse the relief.

A woman, for an illegitimate child, was ordered L.4 a year by the Sheriff; she said it was not enough. The child is in the poorhouse, but the woman still receives the L.4; the woman is healthy.

Cases where Relatives should Relieve.

The following are cases which, if fit objects for relief, the relatives ought to be compelled to support them. They are specimens of numerous similar cases I visited.

A widow, her son is a joiner, deals in timber, and keeps several men constantly at work.

A widow (83), lives with her son, who has cattle, pigs, etc., and a pair of horses, and a farm in proportion.

A man (58), has three unmarried sons, a blacksmith, a joiner, and a fisherman; two able-bodied daughters living with him, admirably dressed; one had on a fashionable head-dress.

A man and his wife, has one son a master of a good trading vessel, one a cooper, and three other single sons in constant employment.

A man, a crofter, has two cows; he has three sons with him, single, able-bodied fishermen.

A widow, who has three sons, shepherds, each of whom could well support her: they have cows and excellent wages.

A sickly widow, has two sons masons, two joiners, one at service, one daughter a lady's-maid, three daughters at service.

A woman, has four sons, a blacksmith, a grocer, a travelling bookseller, a schoolmaster.

A man, has two sons fishermen, well off; one son a merchant, another a schoolmaster.

A widow (75), one son a tailor, one a joiner, another a rich grocer, who has a first-class shop.

A widow, her son a coal-contractor.

A widow (40), has two daughters with her who are staymakers, three sons unmarried, a ferryman receiving constant wages at 2s. 6d. a day, a house-carpenter, a labourer.

A widow (70), living in an outhouse of one of her sons, one son a master shoemaker, one a draper, one a general merchant, two crofters, well off. A daughter a healthy middle-aged woman, who keeps a lodging-house well furnished; she is a general merchant; in her shop window was a display of the fashions of the day, and she is educating her son as a physician; another daughter married to a watchmaker.

A widow (70), who lives in the outhouse of one of her sons, who is a comfortable crofter and fisherman; she has also six other sons, who are fishermen, who have boats and are well off.

In one parish, the inspector informed me, that one-third of those on the Roll had land, cattle, and sheep.

These cases, the inspectors informed me, were known to their Boards, and could certainly not have received the parish funds from a misapprehension on the part of the Boards of what the intention of the law was. The many members of Boards that I meet, state that many are relieved that ought not to be; that many of the rate-payers are poorer than some who receive relief. When Boards know these facts, and have not moral courage to act as they ought, it is not to be expected that inspectors will put themselves forward to do what would be considered unpopular.

Illegitimate Children.

The cases of women receiving relief for their illegitimate children are exceedingly numerous, and are yearly increasing.

The following are some of these cases:—

A young woman (24), for her child; she lives with her mother and two sisters (single), each of whom has children.

A woman (28), receiving relief for three children; she has also one of her sister's.

A woman, for three children, all relieved.

A woman, four children.

A woman, for five children.

A woman, for six children.

Many paupers who have illegitimate daughters with them in the house, these daughters also having illegitimate children.

Three sisters, field-labourers, in constant employment, each of the sisters has an illegitimate child. Two of these sisters are deaf and dumb, and had been in an asylum in Edinburgh. The sisters live with three brothers, all single.

There is little feeling of shame either in the unfortunate creatures themselves or with the people at large. There is no hesitation in engaging this class as servants; and even persons in a superior position, and some whose profession it is to set a moral example, have this class as servants. Many, it is hoped, afterwards lead a virtuous life, but so long as unchasteness is increasing, all classes, who have the good of society at heart, should endeavour to discountenance this wide-spread evil.

The facility of obtaining parochial relief for illegitimate children, tends to immorality—not that I consider it can be attributed entirely to it. The manner in which all the humbler classes are brought up from their infancy, all the family sleeping in the same room, often in the same bed. The after bothy system, and other circumstances, lower the moral feeling and tend to make the young an easy prey.

Neglect of Relatives.

The neglect of near relatives is much to be deplored.

A widow, age 80, her son a tailor, who is well off, and has an excellent house. I found this old woman in bed, where she had been for three weeks. The place she was in was a cold outhouse attached to the tailor's house, in bad repair, in which he kept his pigs. I saw the pigs there. The tailor had plenty of room for his aged parent in his house.

A widow, age 81, living in a bothy, in not the best repair. She had a son, who knew her house well, and that she was a pauper. This son is a clergyman living in Oxfordshire, he keeps a first-class boarding school, he advertises, has teachers for foreign languages, his wife teaches French. I saw a letter of his, dated October 1857, in which he states to her that he has ordered a friend to give her the following articles at Christmas:—½ lb. of snuff, ¼ lb. of tea, 2 lbs. of moist sugar, 2 lbs. soap, 2 lbs. of common candles, 2 loaves of bread of 4 lbs. each.

A pauper had been a band-master, and had been unwell, at my visit, for 1½ year; he had two sons living within a few hundred yards of his house, they had not seen him for more than a year.

In many cases where paupers die, relatives then, for the first time, come forward; they demand the bodies in order, as they say, to give them respectable funerals, so as to prevent it being known that they died paupers.

I asked an able-bodied young man why he did not sweep his mother's chimney? He said he would not do it, it was the business of the parish.

A man, paying L.14 a year of rent, whose mother died a pauper, demanded payment for burying her.

I could give numerous instances of the neglect of parents.

Paupers not easy to manage.

It is almost impossible to get paupers to do anything, even when it is for their own benefit.

A single healthy woman lived in the most filthy habitation that can be conceived. It was with much difficulty I could coax her to allow me to see it. It was full of filthy rags—the accumulation of years; she had a flock of cats. The inspector said he must put her into a good place close to her present house. The woman immediately appealed to me, saying it would be cruel to take her out; it could not, she said, be a bad place where she had lived so many years and quite healthy. She promised me she would wash the rags, but "the cats," she said, "were her companions, more attached than human beings."

The paupers allow their houses to be often in a dangerous state, when a little trouble from themselves would put them in good order.

When I have suggested to inspectors as to repairs required, many of the paupers said they were not necessary.

It is difficult to get paupers to attend to other paupers, even when payment is promised for doing so.

Parochial Boards dislike to compel parties to support their relatives. The instances of taking proceedings are very rare. Parochial Boards.

From the want of due attention, and sometimes from other circumstances, inspectors and collectors become defaulters. An inspector dismissed, was a defaulter for the sum of L.118, 13s. 1½d. A meeting of the Board was called, and three members attended. By the votes of two, the then inspector was directed to take L.50 from the former inspector, and give him a discharge in full for all claims of the Board. The money was paid and the discharge given.

It is much in the power of Parochial Boards to improve the habits of the humbler classes, as to houses and cleanliness, where paupers are concerned. It is very deplorable to see the filthy habits and demoralising condition in which the great mass of the population exist. The houses, however small, could at least have the means of separate sleeping places for the sexes. When visiting, I had ample opportunities of observing the sleeping arrangements—young and old of both sexes often sleeping in the same beds, and with few exceptions, in the same room—a pauper man, 34, sleeping with his sister, aged 42; young women sleeping with their fathers.

Cleanly habits should, like every habit, be inculcated in youth. Schools are one of the sources for so doing; but it was with regret I observed that some of the Highland schoolmasters did not appear to pay the attention so important a subject required, as their places evinced.

I have directed the attention of Boards, through their Inspectors, to the cases where attendants on paupers were women with illegitimate children, and where women of this class had the charge of orphans.

Boards have much in their power, and should take a wide and extended view of what they can do when administering their duties. They exercise a power superior in general to the landlord, they being always resident in the parish. The groundwork of society is in their hands; and there is no doubt that upon the administration of the Poor Law depends, in a great measure, the social state of the humbler classes.

The inspectors of the parishes I visited this half year were of the following occupations:— Inspectors.

Farmer.	Registrar.
Assessor of Property and Income Tax.	Schoolmaster.
Collector.	Session Clerk.
Writer.	Shoemaker.
Messenger-at-Arms.	Clerk to Heritors.
Auctioneer.	Precentor.
Commission Agent.	Clerk to Factor.
	Sheriff's Officer.

The inspector of the parish of Latheron being incapable and unfit, your Board dismissed him.

The Inspectors I saw this half-year were intelligent and of good position, well adapted for the office, with the exception of one, who, I fear, wants energy of character, and is not of active habits. Upon my next visit, I may be enabled to ascertain whether my present view of him be well founded.

Inspectors are in general too fond of law proceedings, evincing a great desire to patronise solicitors, and by so doing getting rid of duties they should perform themselves, and they are too fond of technicalities. Even when inspectors know that paupers are properly chargeable to their parishes, many of them consider it their business to endeavour to evade the liability. The correspondence between inspectors is often carried on with much ingenuity. I have told inspectors it is their duty to give every information to other parishes, whether it makes their parishes liable or not; that it is very seldom law proceedings are necessary; that personal conference with each other in all probability would settle every case; that if I ascertained that law proceedings resulted from their want of not having made use of due diligence, I would report them as unfit for their office.

Inspectors should half-yearly report to their Boards when dependants die or are over age. I have found many able-bodied women who were receiving relief for children, who were at service, or dead, or over age.

Relief, when the recipient is able to work, is perpetuating poverty.

As imposition is practised by statements that holdings have been given up to sons and sons-in-law, the inspectors should ascertain from the factors who are the tenants.

Inspectors should request medical officers to report when parties who have been relieved for temporary illness, have recovered. Many cases on the Roll, who were not fit objects of relief, have been cases of temporary illness, and have been left on for years.

Whenever a list of those on the Roll is published it should name the relatives liable to support them. These lists should be often posted at churches, markets, and all public places, as well as circulated through the parish.

I always examined the parochial documents in detail, and made suggestions, so that inspectors cannot have any excuse for future irregularities.

Medical Officers.

As medical attendance is so very essential a part of relief, the officer should know the state of health of all on the Roll, and not limit his visits to when he is called upon. This is the more necessary, in consequence of the want of confidence in medical men that prevails almost with the entire of the rural population. The dislike to vaccination was equally strong, but this is upon the decline. If people were more in the habit of seeing medical men, and hearing from their neighbours what they did, there is no doubt that confidence would be the result.

In medical officers' salaries, medicines are included. Whenever a chemist is in the locality, the medicines ought to be supplied by him on the prescription of the medical officer, as recommended by the Board of Supervision.

In remote districts, the common medicines should be deposited with the clergy and intelligent farmers, for the use of the poorer classes.

Medical officers, in general, do not make monthly reports. I have experienced much difficulty in ascertaining whether paupers have stated correctly when visits had been made.

It is much to be regretted that, in many Highland districts, there are medical men who cannot speak or understand Gaelic. There is no doubt but, in all localities, some of the population speak English; but few, especially females, like to state their complaints through a third person.

Medical relief would be more available were it not for the many cases of imposition attempted to be practised, to obtain relief through the medical officers. The officer visits the party when not expected—he finds the party healthy, and at work. The officer seeing so many of these cases, is therefore sometimes negligent.

From the number of cases of cancer, and other distressing diseases, it would be very desirable if to every poorhouse was attached an hospital, to which all poor persons were admissible.

The vaccination stations have been well selected. In one parish where the vaccination arrangements had not been attended to, I found five cases of small-pox.

In general, officers do not ascertain if vaccination had taken effect.

In the Highlands, vaccination should not be performed during the winter months. I understand it is not effective in very cold weather, and parents do not wish to expose their children to cold or snow.

The minutes of Parochial Boards, in general, are not full enough; they should be a record of the entire proceedings of the Board, and the state of the parish, financial and otherwise. They should, in general, not require a reference to any other document to explain them. An abstract of the accounts of the collector, of the inspector, and of the Bank, should, when audited, be yearly entered in the minutes. Minutes.

The Roll is seldom engrossed, as required by the Board of Supervision. Boards and Inspectors seldom allow that there is any use in doing so; but I have told all inspectors it is a subject they must not neglect.

I have recommended a scroll minute-book. Loose sheets, which are generally used, are often lost. In order to save time at meetings, I have suggested that previously the headings and matters to be brought before the Board should be entered, leaving spaces for the decisions. Where I have got inspectors to do this, Boards have acknowledged the utility of it, and the great saving of their time.

The utility of the record of applications is not understood. I have shown Boards and inspectors that it is the groundwork by which relief is to be obtained; that the information that ought to be inserted in the record should enable the Board to decide the cases, even were the inspector not present. I have recommended that in the column, "How disposed of by Parochial Board," the chairman should himself record the decisions of the Board, and place his initials to each order. Record of Applications.

The entries then in the minutes will be much shorter; one resolution, with a list annexed, being sufficient, and reference made to the record of applications.

In the greater number of parishes, I have recommended that new registers of poor be formed, inserting in such only those on the last revised Rolls. It was impossible to revise these registers. When new registers were not necessary, I have shown where revisions were requisite. Register of Poor.

Some of the Pay-Rolls were not as authorised—in some there were parties inserted not contemplated—as attendants and nurses on paupers. Pay Roll.

The day cash book, in general, is fairly kept, but accounts not entered as paid up to specified dates rendered it necessary to refer to the vouchers. The cash books, in two instances, were made to answer as a ledger. Some had assessments entered. Day Cash Book.

The general ledger is generally well kept. Two parishes had not a general ledger. General Ledger.

The times of payment of allowances were generally monthly, or every four weeks; in some parishes every eight weeks; many quarterly; and in two half-yearly. Time of Payment of Allowances.

In one parish, where the payments had been monthly, the paupers wished they should be quarterly.

In two parishes the payments are quarterly, and paid in the presence of the Board.

When an assessment is intended to be made, the inspector should prepare an estimate, which, when approved of by the Board, should be entered in the minutes, thereby showing the data upon which the amount of the assessment was ascertained. The assessment should then be made at so much in the £, being the nearest to the amount required, not, of course, to include any fraction of a penny. The plan of assessing a stated sum, leaving it to be afterwards allocated, sometimes necessitates a fraction in the £. Assessments.

In some parishes, the Boards do not hold meetings to take into consideration appeals against assessment.

Rate-payers are often exempted for supporting or lodging relatives. Schoolmasters are sometimes exempted.

In most parishes, holdings under a certain value are exempted—this varies from under L.1, 18s. and L.2 for land, and under L.4 for houses.

In other parishes, the occupants are exempted under these sums, but the proprietor pays his proportion.

Collectors. Collectors are in general paid a fixed salary. One collector receives 5 per cent.

In order to ascertain the amounts that collectors have received, I would recommend an authorised form of receipt, to be printed in duplicate and in books, the collector retaining the block part of the receipt. The duplicate receipts should be numbered consecutively and initialed, each part by the chairman. The collector should be ordered to issue these receipts in the order of the numbers, and the rate-payers should be informed that no receipts were valid except these. If rate-payers do not pay without these receipts, the Board can always ascertain the amount collected.

Audit. There is nothing that requires more attention and revision than the manner in which the parochial accounts are audited. In no instance could I ascertain that the Assessment-roll was added up. The minute book is seldom referred to, so as to ascertain whether the entries in the Pay-roll were authorised. From the neglect of engrossing the Roll, it would in most cases be impossible to find any authority.

In one parish, the only documents for the expenditure of £915 were the cash book and Pay-roll.

The collectors' and inspectors' accounts are generally so mixed together, that even when the accounts are published, few of the members or rate-payers can understand them.

So far as I have ascertained, the audits are a mere totting of the entries of the collectors and inspectors; the authorities for such entries are not, except in rare instances, looked for.

Bank Account. Boards, in general, have not bank accounts. I have endeavoured to impress upon Boards the necessity and utility of bank accounts; that the collector should lodge, to the credit of the Parochial Board, the account to be acted upon, by cheques from the chairman, or a committee of the Board. Some parishes are far from banks; but very few are so circumstanced, except a few parishes on the western coast, and the Long Island. In these cases, factors could be the treasurers, or if money is to be transmitted by post, the amount cannot be much if the chairman's cheques be taken by the collector, who could forward them as cash to the bank. The assessments are not paid so as to leave more in the hands of the collector, in general, than is sufficient for the requirements of the inspector.

Education. Boards show every disposition to pay for education, but seldom evince much interest in the subject.

Inspectors, in general, do not consider it forms any material part of their duties.

Parents do not consider education of much value, otherwise they would endeavour to send their children to school. The best attendance at schools is in winter.

I cannot say I was able to get much information relative to education.

General Remarks. The most destitute poor are certainly aged single women, and widows without children. They are a class by themselves, very fitting for the poorhouse, where their wants and comforts could be better attended to.

The really destitute, all inspectors say, are the most content and thankful for what they get; the other class thankless, and always urging for increase to their allowances.

The difference of the amount of the allowances is no sign of the greater or less liberality of Boards, or as a consequence that the paupers fare differently.

Parishes vary in their general resources.

Country paupers are, in general, better off than those in towns.

In one parish, where the funds are raised by voluntary contributions, the paupers are allowed to beg. In the parishes where the allowances are higher than in the generality of parishes, I have always observed a greater number of paupers belonging to other parishes residing there.

In many parishes, paupers and applicants for relief are allowed to be present during the proceedings of the Board. This should not be allowed; it prevents, with many, the independent expression of opinion.

Pensioners are generally a class who, with their wives, having seen the world, are superior in habits and manner. Pensioners' widows have only the parish to look to; it is a deplorable reverse. It would be a just expenditure of the State funds were these poor creatures given a reduced pension.

Many parishes exempt rate-payers for supporting or lodging parents or children. These parties are not put on the roll, thereby gratifying these rate-payers at the expense of principle.

Sheriffs state that inspectors often neglect to give applicants the required certificates of having been refused relief. These complaints are not always well founded, as the Sheriffs have only the statements of the applicants. I have been informed that Sheriffs sometimes make orders without the previous applications to the inspectors.

Nuisances Removal Act.

The attention of Boards and inspectors has been directed to the necessity of putting in force some of the provisions of the Nuisances Act.

The town of Stornoway was last year in a most filthy and dangerous state. When there, I directed the attention of the Board to the state of their town. Your Board did the same. After these remonstrances, fever and small-pox broke out, and lives were lost. Notwithstanding what occurred, I understand that this year the inhabitants refused to place the town under the provisions of the Police Act.

Lunatics.

It was with much satisfaction that I observed the invariable kindness and attention shown to lunatics and idiots by their relatives and neighbours. During this half-year, as before, every one of this class that I visited was found healthy, and seemed well cared for. In many instances the clothing was not the best; but if there be any thing in common among this unfortunate class, it is the habit of tearing and destroying their clothing.

Orphans.

Orphans appeared to be well cared for, showing much discretion on the part of the inspectors in the choice of parties who have the charge of the children.

State of the Poor.

The number of paupers visited I have stated to have been 2140 in this half-year. Considering the habits and circumstances of the labouring classes, I consider the paupers were in a satisfactory condition.

State of District.

The district I visited was very healthy—agricultural produce good—fish plentiful.

Visiting has its disadvantages, which I experienced, and of which I still feel the effects.

Duties.

I have attended as many meetings of Parochial Boards as was practicable. I considered the thorough examination of the parochial documents, and that for many past years, absolutely necessary. Reports have now been made of all the parishes in my district. My particular attention has been directed to the all-important subject of the manner in which the laws were administered relative to the state of the paupers. I purpose to devote, so far as possible, my entire time to this subject, so that by next half-yearly report, I hope I shall have to report that I had completed the visitation of the greater number of the paupers in the remainder of my district.

During this half-year I have held several investigations, and inspected poorhouses.

The necessity of erecting a poorhouse in the Black Isle Combination is a subject in which a great difference of opinion exists on the part of the several parishes.

I have attended all the meetings that have been held upon the subject, and shall be present at the meetings to be holden next week, which conclude with the general meeting of the Poor Law Combination. I trust that a satisfactory arrangement may be come to.

I have endeavoured to depend solely upon myself in all matters. I refuse all invitations, lest it should be supposed that my opinions were influenced.

Not easy to get Information.

I have found it most difficult to obtain true or correct information, and in making this observation, I do not exempt persons who consider themselves in good positions.

A clergyman strongly recommended a person who was to hold an exceedingly responsible and confidential office. He knew the person well, a near neighbour of his. I knew the habits of this person so recommended to be intemperate, and that to excess, yet this was the person to whom the lives of paupers were to be entrusted.

I have to acknowledge the courtesy of the Boards I visited, and the willingness to adopt suggestions.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient Servant,
H. Harrison Briscoe,
General Superintendent of Poor.

W. S. Walker, Esq.,
Secretary, Board of Supervision.

No. 2. Circular Letter to Inspectors of Poor Respecting Lunatic Paupers.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 26th January 1858.

Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to call the attention of Parochial Boards and Inspectors of the Poor to the Act 20 and 21 Vict. c. 71, which came into operation upon the 1st day of the present month, and whereby certain provisions respecting Lunatic Paupers contained in the 59 section of the Statute 8 and 9 Vict. c. 83 are repealed, and the power to dispense with the removal of such persons to an Asylum, previously vested in the Board of Supervision, is transferred to the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy for Scotland.

In consequence of this change in the law, Inspectors will no longer be required to make half-yearly returns of Lunatic Paupers to this Board on the 1st of January and 1st of July. But in the Annual Return of the number of Poor, &c., for the year ended the 14th of May, and due on the 1st of June, Inspectors will in future be required to specify the number (but not the names) of Lunatics, male and female on the Roll during the year, the number who have been cured, died, or ceased to receive relief, and their distribution in Asylums, Poorhouses, and Private Dwellings.

It is still required by the unrepealed portion of the 59th section of the Poor Law Amendment Act of 1845, that Inspectors shall report without delay to the Board of Supervision all cases of Insane or Fatuous persons chargeable as Paupers in their respective Parishes, but the Board being desirous, as far as possible, to diminish the labour of Parochial Boards and their Officers, have resolved to cancel the Forms of Intermediate Returns hitherto required in such cases, and to be satisfied with duplicates of the Returns required by the General Board in Lunacy.

It will be the duty, therefore, of Inspectors in future to report to the Board of Supervision the cases of Insane or Fatuous persons chargeable as Paupers by furnishing me with duplicates of the "Intimation of a Pauper Lunatic," and "Application to the Board of Lunacy to authorise the reception of a Pauper Lunatic as a single patient into a private house," which are required to be transmitted to the Board of Lunacy, and copies of which are enclosed herewith.

The Board have further, with the approval of Her Majesty's Secretary of State, cancelled the 17th and 18th Rules relating to the duties of Inspectors of Poor issued in October 1845, and have substituted the following in their stead:—

"Whenever any poor person, who shall have become chargeable in the Parish, shall be Insane or Fatuous, the Inspector must forthwith report the same to the Parochial Board."—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

No. 3. Queries and Opinion of Counsel as to the Statute, 20 and 21 Vict. cap. 71. (Lunacy Act, Scotland, 1857.)

Query 1. Whether or not the Board of Commissioners for Lunacy in Scotland are empowered to grant a license legally valid, for the reception and detention of pauper lunatics in a poorhouse, or in a specified part thereof?

Query 2. Whether or not a poorhouse, or part of a poorhouse, so licensed, is to be held to be a "Private Asylum" in the sense of the Statute, or to which of the classes of establishments for the reception of lunatics referred to in the Statute, such poorhouse or part of a poorhouse must be held to belong?

Answers 1 and 2. We are of opinion that the provision of the Statute in regard to licenses applies to private asylums only. We are further of opinion, that a poorhouse is neither a public nor a private asylum, and that a Parochial Board is not empowered by the Statute to receive or detain lunatics in a poorhouse, unless they are authorised to do so by the General Board of Commissioners of Lunacy, in virtue of the proviso contained in the 95th section of the Statute.

Query 3. Does the definition of the word "Lunatic," contained in the 3d section of the Lunacy Act, include persons of dissipated habits, who may be considered so diseased or affected in mind as to render them unfit to be at large as regards their own conduct, as well as persons addicted to petty thefts, who may be considered to be so diseased or affected in mind as to render them unfit to be at large as regards the safety of the property of others; or does the use of the conjunction "and" in the definition, require a combination of the conditions which it conjoins to constitute lunacy?

Answer 3. We are of opinion that the words of the Statute require, in the definition of a lunatic, unfitness to be at large as regards either the individual's own personal safety and conduct, or the personal safety and the property of others. The two elements in each alternative of the definition must be combined. But there may often be insanity developed as to one of the elements only, which necessarily implies danger as regards the other. In other words, unless the unfitness as regards conduct also threaten personal danger to the individual himself, or the unfitness as regards the property of others also threaten danger to the persons of others, the definition of the Statute will not be satisfied.

Query 4. Does the definition of the word "Lunatic" in the Statute, include all paupers who, from weakness or facility of mind, are unable to manage their own affairs?

Answer 4. We are of opinion that paupers who, from weakness or facility of mind, are unable to manage their own affairs, are not comprehended under the definition of the word "Lunatic" given in the Statute.

COPY LETTER, Inspector of Poor of Alva to Secretary of General Board in Lunacy.

Alva, 9th March 1858.

SIR,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your favour of yesterday, enquiring why I omitted to include in my return on the 1st January last, the names of Janet M'Gregor and Janet Wallace. Taking the meaning of the word Lunatic as given in the Lunacy Act, to signify "any mad or furious or fatuous person, or person so diseased or affected in mind as to render him unfit, in the opinion of competent medical persons, to be at large, either as regards his own personal safety and conduct, or the safety of the persons and property of others or of the public," and not trusting myself, I consulted with the medical officer of the Board, and before making any report, I had his decided opinion and sanction for the report

I made, namely that the only persons known to us requiring to be reported were James Halligan, in the Lunatic Ward of the Abbey Poor House, Paisley, and James Rankin in Newbigging House, Musselburgh.

The Medical officer and I have gone over the parish a second time, and we have arrived at the same conclusion, namely, that we know of none who can be accounted as a Lunatic, taking the Act as our guide.

Janet Wallace was not alimented because she was of weak mind, but her mother being an old woman supported by her sons, and Janet being idle during the dullness of the trade, the Board sympathised with her and aided her. Janet M'Gregor has never been reputed a Lunatic till the policeman reported her, and it is evident to the medical officer and myself that he does not know the import of the term.

Janet Wallace is quite able to do a great deal for her own support, and Janet M'Gregor is every day employed in going messages and taking care of children. I wish all the parish were like them. They are very quiet, inoffensive persons.—I am, etc.

Part II. In REFERENCE to DETENTION of LUNATICS in POORHOUSES.

Secretary General Board in Lunacy to Secretary Board of Supervision.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, 19th June 1858.

SIR,—The opinion of counsel has been taken by the Board on the question whether the lunatic wards of Poorhouses can, under the provisions of the Lunacy Act, be considered as Asylums, and they have received an answer that they cannot be recognised as such.

It is, therefore, only from the necessity of the case that this Board propose to sanction the interim detention of lunatics in Poorhouses, under the Rules and Regulations, of which I enclose copies for the consideration of the members of your Board.

As the Poorhouses are under the jurisdiction of the Board of Supervision, these Rules and Regulations can be issued only with their sanction, and the Board of Lunacy accordingly solicit the attention of your Board to the whole question of the detention of lunatics in Poorhouses, and more particularly to the course which it is here proposed to pursue. Supposing the Board of Supervision to coincide in the views held by the Board of Lunacy, the latter will be glad to receive any suggestions which the former Board may be inclined to offer, and for this purpose it is suggested that a conference should be held between the two Boards, which I beg you to fix as soon as may be convenient.—I am, etc.,

(Signed) M. F. OGILVY, for the Secretary.

Enclosure in Letter of Secretary of Board of Lunacy of 19th June.

Rules and Regulations proposed to be issued by the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy, for Regulating the Reception of Lunatics into Poorhouses.

The Board will be prepared to issue their Sanction, for the reception of Lunatics into Poorhouses, pending the erection of District Asylums, on application made to them by Parochial Boards, and on the following conditions:—

I.

With every application for sanction there shall be laid before the Board a plan, upon such scale as the Board shall direct, of the Poorhouse for which their sanction is desired, showing accurately the number and dimensions of the apartments, offices, and airing-places, with a statement as to the supply of water, and all further particulars which the Board may require to be communicated; and the application for sanction shall state the greatest number of Lunatics of each sex proposed to be received.

II.

The apartments for the Lunatics must be separate and distinct from those occupied by the ordinary paupers, and separate airing-places must also be provided.

III.

No alterations in the structure or arrangements of the Lunatic department of a Poorhouse, which has been sanctioned by the Board, shall be made without the consent in writing of the Board.

IV.

Under special circumstances, the Board will sanction the reception of not more than five Lunatics into Poorhouses unprovided with separate accommodation for Lunatics, and without requiring plans of the Poorhouse to be furnished.

V.

The sanction of the Board will be granted in the name of the Governor of the Poorhouse, and a new sanction must be obtained on the dismissal, resignation, or death of the Governor in whose name the former sanction was granted.

VI.

The sanction of the Board will not be granted unless such a staff of paid attendants be provided, as shall be satisfactory to the Board.

VII.

The Board reserve the power at any time to withdraw their sanction and to call for the removal of the Patients, on their treatment or management appearing to the Board to be unsatisfactory, or on the occurrence of any circumstances which, in the opinion of the Board, render such a course expedient.

VIII.

No Lunatic, or person supposed to be a Lunatic, shall be admitted into a Poorhouse without the sanction of the Board, unless, in circumstances of emergency and for temporary detention, upon two Medical Certificates of Insanity, according to the form prescribed in the Lunacy Act; and no Lunatic shall be detained in a Poorhouse for a period exceeding seven days without the sanction of the Board.

IX.

The special sanction of the Board must be obtained for the detention of every individual Patient, and this sanction will be granted only where the Medical Certificates, in the form hereto annexed, clearly show, in the opinion of the Board, that the Patient is incapable of deriving benefit from treatment in an Asylum.

X.

Notice of Admission into a Poorhouse of every Lunatic, or person supposed to be a Lunatic, shall be given to the Board within fourteen days of the date of his reception; and such notice shall be given whether the Patient have remained in the Poorhouse for a period exceeding seven days, or have been discharged or removed within the said period.

XI.

The diet shall be regulated by the tables of the Board of Supervision; but on at least four days of the week, the patients shall be accounted as belonging to Class C, and shall receive the third rate of diet.

XII.

Every Poorhouse sanctioned for the reception of eighty Lunatics, shall have a resident medical man; every Poorhouse sanctioned for more than thirty and less than eighty Lunatics, shall be visited daily by a medical man; and every Poorhouse sanctioned for thirty or less than thirty Lunatics, shall be visited at least twice a week by a medical man.

XIII.

No Medical Officer resident in a Poorhouse and having charge of the Lunatics, shall be dismissed by the Parochial Board without the concurrence of the Board; and no non-resident Medical Officer shall be dismissed or removed from the charge of the Lunatics, without immediate intimation being given to the Board.

XIV.

On one day of every week, which day shall be named on a board affixed to the gate of the Poorhouse, the friends or relatives of the Patients shall be admitted to visit them during a period of at least two hours, unless special reasons exist for refusing them admission. In every case of such refusal, the name of the Applicant shall be entered in a Book kept for the purpose, together with the name of the Patient he desired to see, and the reasons for refusal.

XV.

All Registers and Books required by the Board to be kept in Private Asylums, shall be kept in Poorhouses receiving Lunatics; and all Notices required to be given to the Board by Proprietors of Private Asylums, shall be given by Governors of Poorhouses receiving Lunatics.

XVI.

The Board may at any time alter, recall, or add to the preceding Rules and Regulations with the concurrence of the Board of Supervision.

Secretary of Board of Supervision to Secretary of General Board in Lunacy.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, June 25, 1858.

SIR,—The letter of the General Board of Lunacy of the 19th instant, was laid before this Board at their meeting yesterday, and I am to state that the Board are very desirous to co-operate in providing temporary accommodation for pauper Lunatics, till the District Asylums become available. With that view, they will be happy to confer with the General Board of Lunacy.

It appears to the Board, however, that it will promote the success of that conference, to point out a preliminary difficulty, which they encounter in considering, so far as they understand it, the course proposed by the General Board of Lunacy.

By the 39th section of the recent Lunacy Act, it is enacted, that "any person who shall be convicted of receiving, detaining, or harbouring any Lunatic, or person as such, in any public or private Asylum or house without an order, where such order is required by this Act,"—"and any person who shall be convicted of sending or delivering any Lunatic, or any person as such, for custody in any public, private or district Asylum or house without an order, where such order is by this Act required, shall severally be guilty of an offence, and shall for every such offence be liable in a penalty not exceeding One hundred pounds, or to be imprisoned for any space not exceeding twelve months."

The 95th section of the Statute provides, when the removal of a pauper Lunatic "to the Asylum of the district in which the parish of settlement of such pauper Lunatic is situated" is dispensed with, "that the provisions of this Act as to the requisite licence and order shall be duly complied with."

The Statute does not appear to contemplate that any Lunatic shall be detained in custody without the safeguard of a Sheriff's order, and the 39th section specifies the description of Asylum or house to which it shall be lawful for the Sheriff to grant orders for the reception of Lunatics; but if a Poorhouse is not an Asylum, neither is it a "house" in terms of the Act.

The Board are therefore desirous to know on whose order the Board of Lunacy propose that pauper Lunatics shall be sent to and detained in custody in Poorhouses. If that Board should be of opinion that their own order would be sufficient authority for the reception and detention of a Lunatic in custody in a Poorhouse, this Board would desire to have explained to them the grounds on which it is held that such an order of the Board of Lunacy would be sufficient, in the absence of an order from the Sheriff, to protect the Parochial Board and its officers from the consequences of any action that might be raised against them, for the illegal detention of a Lunatic in custody.

The Board, while they are very desirous to avoid raising any merely technical objection, which may lead to public inconvenience, could not consent to recommend to Parochial Boards any arrangement which would subject them or their officers to penal consequences; and the Board therefore hope that the Board of Lunacy will be able, before they meet in conference, to solve this preliminary doubt and difficulty to the satisfaction of the Board of Supervision.—I am, etc.,

Sir,—The Board have had under their consideration your letters of the 22d and 25th June, and I am to inform you that they consider that the Bill now before Parliament for the amendment of the Lunacy Act, will render a conference with the Board of Supervision unnecessary. * * * * * —I am, etc.,

Part III. In REFERENCE to the case of a PAUPER CHARGEABLE to the PARISH of ABDIE.

Inspector of Parish of Abdie to Secretary of Board of Supervision.

Abdie, Newburgh, 15th June 1858.

Sir,—Mary Bruce, the deaf, dumb, and blind girl of whom I wrote to you some time ago, was visited by the Medical Commissioner of the Board of Lunacy, who told me that, after consulting with our medical officer, I should report her under the Lunacy Act, and apply for a Dispensation from Removal, which he would recommend. But our medical officer differed from the Lunacy Commissioner, and gave me a certificate that, in his opinion, "she is neither fatuous, lunatic, nor insane," which I forwarded to the Board of Lunacy. The Board, however, adhered to the report of their Visiting Commissioner, and requested me again to apply for a Dispensation from Removal. Our medical officer then got other two medical gentlemen, one of them a superintendent of a lunatic asylum, to visit her, and neither of them would certify that she is insane, lunatic, or fatuous.

I then filled up the usual Form (E), and sent it to the Board of Lunacy, cancelling the word "Lunatic," and the clause "in a state of mental derangement;" and instead of getting the usual medical certificate on the back filled up, I appended a note stating that the medical officer still adhered to his former certificate, and that he was supported in his opinion by other two medical gentlemen whom he brought to see the girl.

The usual sanction for a Pauper Lunatic (Form E[1]) was then sent me from the Board of Lunacy.

Our medical officer is dissatisfied, and states that he cannot visit, nor sign the returns for the girl as a lunatic.

Under these circumstances, I did not include her in the return of the number of lunatics made to the Board of Supervision in May; and having since laid the case before the Parochial Board, I was instructed to communicate with the Board of Supervision, and obtain their opinion of the case, and whether or not I should include her, in my future returns to them, as lunatic.

If necessary, I will send you copies of correspondence and schedules between the Board of Lunacy and myself.

A reply at your convenience will much oblige, yours, etc.

Secretary of Board of Supervision to Secretary of General Board in Lunacy.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 16th July 1858.

Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to transmit to you the accompanying documents from the Inspector of Poor in the Parish of Abdie, respecting a child named Mary Bruce, together with a copy of an opinion of Counsel recently obtained by the Board; and I have to state that the Board of Supervision will be glad to receive from the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy any observations upon the communications from the Inspector of Abdie which they may think proper to make.

It may be right to mention that the opinion of Counsel was not obtained in reference to the case of Mary Bruce.

I will thank you to return the documents from the Inspector of Abdie when you reply.—I am, etc.,

(Signed) W. S. Walker, Secretary.

W. Forbes, Esq., Secretary,
Board of Lunacy.

Enclosure in Mr Walker's Letter of 16th July.

Enclosure No. 1.

Copy Correspondence between W. Forbes, Esq., Secretary to the General Board of Lunacy, and John Cameron, Inspector of Poor for the Parish of Abdie, in the case of Mary Bruce.

1st, Letter from M. F. Ogilvy, for the Secretary, to Mr Cameron.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, 10th April 1858.

Sir,—As you omitted to include in your Return of Pauper Lunatics chargeable to your parish, the case of Mary Bruce, it will be necessary that you now fill up and transmit the usual Intimation, of which I enclose a Form, and you should thereafter make application for Dispensation from Removal, as directed in the within note.—I am, etc.

2d, Note referred to in the above, and addressed to the Inspector of Poor, Abdie.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, 10th April 1858.

Sir,—The under-mentioned pauper lunatics of your parish having now been visited, I am directed to require that you make application to this Board, within ten days, for Dispensation from Removal.

In cases where the lunatics are placed with relatives, and have been visited, the Board do not require medical certificates; but where they are resident with strangers, two medical certificates are necessary before you can obtain the Sheriff's order.

In all cases the Application and Statement must be filled up.—I am, etc.

No.——

Mary Bruce.

3d, Letter from Mr Cameron to Mr Forbes.

Case of Mary Bruce.

Abdie, Newburgh, 12th April 1858.

Sir,—I am favoured with your letter of the 10th inst., regarding the above, and I now send you enclosed a certificate from the parochial medical officer, which explains why I did not include her in my Return of Pauper Lunatics.—I am, etc.

4th, Copy, Dr Lyell's Certificate, referred to in the foregoing.

Newburgh, 12th April 1858.

This certifies that I have known Mary Bruce from very early infancy.

Up to nine months of age, or thereby, she was sound in health, in body and mind. She was then affected with acute meningitis, from which she recovered, with the loss of sight and hearing. Excepting these deficiencies, she is, in my opinion, neither fatuous, lunatic, nor insane.

This I declare, on soul and conscience, to be my opinion and belief.

(Signed) John Lyell, M.D.

5th, Letter from Mr Forbes to Mr Cameron.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, April 16, 1858.

Sir,—I have laid before the Board the medical certificate forwarded by you in the case of Mary Bruce, and I am directed to inform you that it is one which should be reported to this Board, and you will therefore require to transmit to me the usual "Intimation," and thereafter apply for Dispensation from Removal.—I am, etc.

6th, Letter from Mr Cameron to Mr Forbes.

Abdie, Newburgh, 21*st April* 1858.

Sir,—I duly received yours of the 16th inst., in the case of Mary Bruce, and I now transmit the Intimation required, altered, however, by the directions of the medical officer, to suit her circumstances, and which I trust is satisfactory.—I am, etc.

7th, Letter from Mr Forbes to Mr Cameron.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, May 7, 1858.

Sir,—I have again laid before the Board your letters regarding the case of Mary Bruce, and have to inform you that the Visiting Commissioner has no doubt that the child is idiotic, and comes within the provisions of the Lunacy Act, and I am therefore again to request you to apply for Dispensation from Removal.—I am, etc.

8th, Letter from Mr Cameron to Mr Forbes.

Abdie, Newburgh, 17*th May* 1858.

Sir,—I delayed responding to your letter of the 7th inst. at the request of the medical officer, till he should obtain the opinion of other medical men regarding the state of Mary Bruce.

The substance of their opinion is now given in the note appended to the Application for Dispensation from Removal herewith sent. * * —I am, etc.

Enclosure No. 4.

Opinion of Counsel.

Query. Does the definition of the word "Lunatic," contained in the 3d section of the Lunacy Act, include persons of dissipated habits, who may be considered so diseased or affected in mind as to render them unfit to be at large as regards their own conduct, as well as persons addicted to petty thefts, who may be considered to be so diseased or affected in mind as to render them unfit to be at large as regards the safety of the property of others; or does the use of the conjunction "and" in the definition, require a combination of the conditions which it conjoins to constitute lunacy?

Answer. We are of opinion that the words of the Statute require, in the definition of a lunatic, unfitness to be at large as regards either the individual's own personal safety and conduct, or the personal safety and the property of others. The two elements in each alternative of the definition must be combined. But there may often be insanity developed as to one of the elements only, which necessarily implies danger as regards the other. In other words, unless the unfitness as regards conduct also threaten personal danger to the individual himself, or the unfitness as regards the property of others also threaten danger to the persons of others, the definition of the Statute will not be satisfied.

Query. Does the definition of the word "Lunatic" in the Statute, include all paupers who, from weakness or facility of mind, are unable to manage their own affairs?

Answer. We are of opinion that paupers who, from weakness or facility of mind, are unable to manage their own affairs, are not comprehended under the definition of the word "Lunatic," given in the Statute.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, 19th July 1858.

Sir,—I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 16th instant, with the accompanying documents regarding Mary Bruce, and copy of an opinion of counsel obtained by the Board of Supervision.

In reply, I am directed to forward to you a copy of the Report of the Visiting Commissioner of this Board on the case, and to request that you will be so good as procure from the Inspector of Poor of the parish of Abdie, certificates "from the Medical Superintendent of a neighbouring Asylum," and the other Medical gentleman referred to in his letter of the 17th May, as to the mental condition of the patient.

The whole case will then be brought under the consideration of the Board, and I would now remark, that you will observe that the Board have before them only the certificate of the Parochial Surgeon, but they were unwilling, considering the opinion of this gentleman, and the assertion of the Inspector that it was shared in by two other Medical men, to take any decided measures to carry out their views until the case was again visited, or was recognised by the Parochial authorities as coming under the provisions of the Lunacy Act.—I am, etc.,

Enclosure in Mr Forbes' Letter of 19th July.

Excerpt from Report by Deputy-Commissioner on the parish of Abdie, county of Fife. Visited 25th February 1858.

Mary Bruce, a child of 8, thin, pale, and sickly; when 9 months old took fits; has had them frequently since that period; thought to have had hydrocephalus; squints; oscillates; neither speaks, hears, nor sees; wets and dirties the bed; eats grass, cinders, and fæces; eats greedily; miserably clothed; no flannels; no stockings. Her mother, an unprepossessing and at one time a loose-living woman; was deserted 12 years ago by her husband. This child is the result of an adulterous connection. The mother has 5 legitimate children (4 alive), all of whom are sane; she was a pauper when this child was born, but would not be so now were it not for the state of said child.

They have one room and one bed. The mother, Mary, and a boy of 14 sleep together. The children are sufficiently grown up to work for themselves. They help their mother, who (aged 40) winds in winter, and works in the field in summer, leaving her child in care of other children or a neighbour.

The house is ill kept and dirty. She has 3s. weekly, house-rent, coals and clothing occasionally.

The Board sent the child lately to Dundee (Institution for Deaf Mutes), for 4 months at £12 per annum. The child when removed is said to have been covered with vermin; to have been much emaciated; to have had bed sores.

Sir,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20th inst., regarding Mary Bruce, and I now send you enclosed, a certificate from Dr Lyell, our Medical officer, and Dr Troup of Auchtermuchty. The Superintendent of the Asylum, for private reasons, has not signed the certificate, but in a letter to Dr Lyell of date 23d July, which I have seen, he says in reference to it, "I return your certificate regarding Mary Bruce, which is quite explicit, and which you are quite justified in granting."—I am, etc.,

Certificate referred to in Inspector of Abdie's Letter of 27th July

Newburgh, 21st July 1858.

We, the undersigned, on 15th May 1858, saw and examined the child Mary Bruce, residing with her mother at Grange, parish of Abdie. Having lost her sight and hearing at nine months of age from brain disease, she is consequently imperfect in the developement of her faculties; but we cannot certify that she is either fatuous, idiotic, or insane.

(No. 1.)

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, 31st July 1858.

SIR,—With reference to your letters of the 16th and 29th instant, regarding the case of Mary Bruce, an idiot child, in the parish of Abdie, I now beg to return, as requested, the Inspector of Poor's letters, relative documents, and medical certificates, which having been laid before the Commissioners, I am directed by them to say that in their opinion the certificate by Dr Lyell and Mr Troup contradicts itself, as imperfect development of the faculties and fatuity are synonymous terms.

If, however, the Board of Supervision are satisfied, the Commissioners are willing to consider Mary Bruce as an ordinary pauper. On the other hand, if the Board of Supervision shares in the doubts of the Lunacy Board, the course to be adopted will be regulated by section 77 of the Lunacy Act.—I am, etc.,

Part IV. In REFERENCE to the DEFINITION of the word "LUNATIC."

Secretary General Board in Lunacy to Secretary Board of Supervision.

(No. 2.)

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, 31st July 1858.

SIR,—I have laid before the Board your letter of the 16th instant, with the accompanying memorandum submitted to counsel and their opinion thereon, and I am now directed to enquire whether the Board of Supervision intend to adopt that opinion, that unless an "unfitness (to be at large) as regards conduct, also threatens personal danger to the individual himself, or the unfitness as regards the property of others, also threaten danger to the persons of others," the definition of the Statute as to what constitutes Lunacy will not be satisfied?

It is very important, for the sake of the poor, that a perfect understanding should exist between the Board of Supervision and the Board of Lunacy, as to which of them is responsible for the treatment of such cases as those detailed in the enclosed extracts, and I am to request that you will be so good as state whether the Board of Supervision do or do not consider them as coming within the statutory definition of Lunacy. Their number altogether is very considerable, and these cases are given merely as specimens.

I am further to enquire whether paupers to whom it is considered necessary to deny the usual "Liberty Days" in Poorhouses, from their weakness or facility of mind, and who, although expressing a wish to leave are detained by the Parochial authorities, are considered by the Board of Supervision as ordinary paupers or as lunatic paupers.—I am, etc.,

Secretary Board of Supervision to Secretary General Board in Lunacy.

Board of Supervision, 13th August 1858.

SIR,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your two letters of the 31st July, in reply to the Board's communication regarding the case of the pauper child Mary Bruce, and I am to state that the Board entirely concur with the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy, as to the expediency of endeavouring to ascertain the proper limits of their respective jurisdictions and duties, with reference to persons receiving Parochial relief.

It appeared to the Board that, in any attempt to define those limits, it would be their duty to carry out to the best of their ability the law as it is laid down in the Statutes. Desiring to give effect to that consideration, and entertaining doubts as to the proper meaning and legal construction of certain parts of the Act 20 and 21 Vict., cap. 71, the Board sought the advice of the then Lord Advocate, Mr Inglis, the preceding Lord Advocate, Mr Moncreiff, and Mr George Ross. Having obtained from them a maturely considered and unanimous opinion on the points submitted to them, the Board must believe, until it is otherwise decided by higher authority, that the opinion of those eminent counsel sets forth the proper meaning and legal construction of those parts of the Statute to which it relates, and that the Board would not be justified in setting aside, as erroneous, the opinion which they have thus sought and obtained.

At the same time the Board are far from pretending that it falls within their province to determine whether any individual pauper is or is not a Lunatic in terms of the Statute. On any doubtful question of that description they could not venture to give an opinion; but it appears to them that no such question can be legally determined without special reference to the terms, the proper meaning and right construction of that definition of the term "Lunatic," which is given in the Statute.

It was with these views, in which they cannot doubt the concurrence of the Board of Commissioners in Lunacy, that they considered it right, when sending for the consideration of that Board the documents in the case of the pauper child Mary Bruce, to transmit at the same time, for their information, copies of the questions submitted to counsel and of the opinion given, which was not irrelevant to the case.

But while the Board do not consider it within their province to determine whether the child Mary Bruce (Abdie case) is or is not a "Lunatic" in terms of the Statute, or to give a definition of Fatuity, they may perhaps be permitted to express a doubt as to the opinion of the Commissioners conveyed in your letter (No. 1) of the 31st July, that "the certificate of Dr Lyell and Mr Troup contradicts itself, as imperfect development of the faculties and fatuity are synonymous terms."

Without entering into the question, how far it can truly be said of any man that his faculties are perfectly developed, or whether the faculties of the uneducated classes generally are perfectly developed, it must surely be admitted that the faculties of children are imperfectly developed. In the cases of persons who have been blind from birth, those faculties to the development of which the sense of sight ministers, must be imperfectly developed; and the same is true with reference to the sense of hearing, in the case of persons who have been deaf from birth; but the Board are not aware that it has ever yet been held that all such persons are fatuous and "Lunatics," in terms of the Statute.

The numerous class of persons who are considered intellectually inferior to the average of their neighbours, are so considered because their faculties are more imperfectly developed; but the Commissioners cannot surely mean to hold that all such persons are therefore fatuous and "Lunatics."

Still lower in the scale of intellect, and with faculties still more imperfectly developed, are the persons referred to in the 60th section of the Statute 8 and 9 Vict., cap. 83,—"who from weakness or facility of mind are unable or unfit to take charge of their own affairs," and for whom that section points out an appropriate provision; yet the eminent counsel consulted by the Board express their unequivocal and unanimous opinion that even these "are not comprehended under the definition of the word 'Lunatic,' given in the Statute;" and, if so, then the provisions of that Statute (which apply only to Lunatics as therein defined), cannot apply to them, and they cannot therefore be legally subject to the jurisdiction of the General Board of Commissioners in Lunacy.

The Board would suggest that the first and most essential step towards ascertaining the limits of the jurisdiction of each Board, should be to ascertain which of the paupers are comprehended in the statutory definition of the word "Lunatic." All paupers who are comprehended under that definition, and no other paupers, must be under the jurisdiction of the Commissioners in Lunacy. But it may be proper to repeat that it does not belong to this Board to determine which of the paupers are comprehended in that definition.

Whenever, therefore, the Commissioners shall have ascertained which of the paupers in each parish are "Lunatics" in terms of the Statute, the question which of the paupers are subject to the jurisdiction of this or that Board will have been decided; and, in like manner, thenceforward, the same result will follow the same proceeding in the new cases that may come under consideration. But until the Commissioners shall have ascertained which of the paupers are comprehended under the statutory definition of the word "Lunatic," and therefore placed by the Statute under their jurisdiction, the limits of that jurisdiction must remain in the undefined and unsatisfactory state in which that matter still rests.

This Board assuredly have no disposition to interfere with the exercise by the Commissioners of their proper functions, amongst which they conceive is included the important, delicate, and very responsible duty of ascertaining who are comprehended in the statutory definition of the term Lunatic, and who, therefore, are to forfeit, under that Statute, the common right of personal liberty and all other personal civil rights as members of the community.

Wm. Forbes, Esq., Secretary,
General Lunacy Board.

The Secretary General Board in Lunacy to Secretary Board of Supervision.

General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh, 20th August 1858.

Sir,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, and in reply, I am directed to state that the Board regret that the Board of Supervision should have considered it their duty to reply, in such general terms, to my letters of the 31st July.

I was directed to inquire whether the Board of Supervision intended to adopt the opinion received from counsel, that unless "unfitness (to be at large) as regards conduct, also threaten personal danger to the individual himself, or the unfitness as regards the property of others, also threaten danger to the persons of others, the definition of the Statute will not be satisfied."

The Board were all the more desirous to be informed whether the Board of Supervision were of opinion that a person, in order to be a lunatic in the statutory sense, must be not only of unsound mind, but also dangerous either to his own person, or to the property and persons of others, as the query that elicited this opinion from counsel did not appear to the Board to be so framed as to bring the question, as to what legally constitutes a lunatic, fully under view. Indeed, the Board were inclined to think that the answer given by counsel to the Board of Supervision was not relevant to the query they proposed, and it was principally on this account that the Board were anxious to know in what sense the Board of Supervision understood the opinion.

According to the Statute, "the word lunatic shall mean and include any mad or furious or fatuous person, or person so diseased or affected in mind as to render him unfit, in the opinion of competent medical persons, to be at large, either as regards his own personal safety and conduct, or the safety of the persons and property of others, or of the public." But in the query submitted by the Board of Supervision to counsel, no reference is made to the first part of the definition, which states that "the word lunatic shall mean and include every mad or fatuous or furious person;" it refers solely to the latter half of the definition, which classes among lunatics "any person so diseased or affected in mind as to render him unfit, in the opinion of competent medical persons, to be at large, either as regards his own personal safety and conduct, or the safety and property of others, or of the public." It may, indeed, be a question, whether the latter half of the definition is intended to be an interpretation or an amplification of the first half; but this point the query of the Board of Supervision leaves untouched, and simply asks, "Does the definition of the word 'lunatic,' contained in the 3d section of the Lunacy Act, include persons of dissipated habits, who may be considered so diseased or affected in mind as to render them unfit to be at large as regards their own conduct, as well as persons addicted to petty thefts, who may be considered to be so diseased or affected in mind as to render them unfit to be at large as regards the safety of the property of others; or does the use of the conjunction 'and' in the definition, require a combination of the conditions which it conjoins to constitute lunacy?"

To this counsel reply, "We are of opinion that the words of the Statute require, in the definition of a lunatic, unfitness to be at large as regards either the individual's own personal safety and conduct, or the personal safety and the property of others. The two elements in each alternative of the definition must be combined. But there may often be insanity developed as to one of the elements only, which necessarily implies danger as regards the other. In other words, unless the unfitness as regards conduct also threaten personal danger to the individual himself, or the unfitness as regards the property of others, also threaten danger to the persons of others, the definition of the Statute will not be satisfied."

The Board are at a loss to know whether, in giving this answer, counsel took into consideration the first part as well as the second part of the definition, or whether they had in view merely the words in the query proposed by the Board of Supervision.

In their anxiety to come to a thorough understanding with the Board of Supervision in so important a matter as the proper definition of lunacy, the Board gave the details of several cases, with a request to know whether, in the opinion of the Board of Supervision, they come within the statutory definition; but, in the answer received by the Board, no notice is taken of these cases.

In the interpretation which, in practice, the Board have given to the statutory definition of the term "lunatic," they have been guided to a certain extent by the marginal instructions attached to the form of the medical certificates, which authorise the Sheriff to send to an asylum any person certified to be a "lunatic, an idiot, an insane person, or a person of unsound mind, and a proper person to be detained under care and treatment." It may, indeed, be argued that, in order to be a proper person to be detained under care and treatment, the lunatic must also be dangerous, but this is a view which has never been acted upon by medical men, and which, if adopted, would entail incalculable evil on many patients whose malady would be rendered hopeless by the neglect or delay of efficient treatment.

The Board of Lunacy are as desirous as the Board of Supervision to carry out the law as it is laid down in the Statutes, and if they hesitate to be guided by the opinion forwarded to them by the Board of Supervision, it is entirely because they question the basis on which it was obtained. The Board of Supervision cannot fail to perceive, that if this opinion were adopted, not only would the great mass of insane paupers, in whose cases exemption from removal to an asylum has been granted, cease to be "lunatics," but also a large proportion of those who are actually in asylums. The Board of Lunacy quite agree with the Board of Supervision that the limits of the jurisdiction of each Board would be fixed by ascertaining which of the paupers are comprehended in the statutory definition of the word "lunatic," but the difficulty, as has been shown, lies in ascertaining what this definition means. Hitherto, the Board of Lunacy have acted upon the view, that every person who is certified, by legally qualified medical men, to be a "lunatic, an insane person, an idiot, or a person of unsound mind," and who is at the same time a pauper, is, in the meaning of the Statute, a pauper lunatic; and they will continue to be guided by this view until evidence is produced that it is erroneous.

The Board are further confirmed in their opinion that the Legislature contemplated this broader interpretation of the term "lunatic," by their repeal of the powers of dispensation from removal to asylums of insane and fatuous poor persons, vested in the Board of Supervision by the 8th and 9th Vict. cap. 83, and which that Board were in the habit of exercising in favour of insane paupers who were certified as "quiet and inoffensive." It seems to the Board, that if the Legislature had intended that such insane and fatuous poor persons were not in future to be considered as lunatics, they would either not have considered it necessary to repeal powers which were no longer applicable, or while repealing them, would have given some explanations of the reasons which induced them to do so.

With reference to the individual case of Mary Bruce, which has led to this correspondence, and the doubt expressed by the Board of Supervision that imperfect development of the faculties and fatuity are not synonymous terms, the Commissioners see no reason to alter the opinion they expressed in special reference to this case. The Board of Supervision must see that the reasoning used by them to show that imperfect development of the faculties is no proof of lunacy, equally precludes fatuity being received as such proof, as fatuity varies in degree in a precisely similar manner. In all estimates of mental capacity, like must be compared with like—an adult with an adult, and a child with a child; for the amount of intellect which is normal in the child would be abnormal in the adult, and stamp him as fatuous, or possessed of faculties imperfectly developed. The question accordingly is, not whether Mary Bruce, when compared with an adult, is fatuous, but whether she is fatuous when compared with children of a like age. The case, moreover, is not one simply of backwardness or slow development, for it is admitted that, in early infancy, she suffered from acute disease of the brain, the physical effects of which were to deprive her of sight, and hearing, and, as a sequence, of speech. Mary Bruce, therefore, is removed from the category of the healthy deaf and dumb, so to speak; and the reasoning of the Board of Supervision, in regard to this class of unfortunates, is not applicable in her case. It must, as a matter of course, be difficult to determine the precise mental condition of a child that is deprived of the senses of sight and hearing, and who is mute, but some conclusion may be drawn from the habits of the patient. Now, in this case, it is reported that the child "eats grass, cinders, and fæces," which the Board of Lunacy consider no child deprived merely of the senses of sight and hearing would do; and they therefore infer that her mental powers likewise are affected, and that she is beyond all doubt "a person of unsound mind." In fact, she betrays the degraded appetites of an idiot of the lowest class.

The Board desire to take this opportunity to say a few words in regard to those paupers who are so weak or facile in mind, as to be unable to manage their own affairs, and who are therefore fit inmates of a Poorhouse, and I am to state that the Board see no reason to differ from the opinion given by counsel, that a degree of weakness or facility of mind, such as leads to pauperism, does not constitute Lunacy. But the Board were inclined to doubt whether those paupers who are so mentally deficient as to be placed in Poorhouses, without their wishes being consulted, and whose demands for liberation the Governor of the Poorhouse considers himself justified in disregarding, belong to this category. The Board of Supervision, however, have abstained from expressing in their reply any opinion in regard to them, apparently leaving it to the Board to determine whether they are or are not lunatic. But the Board of Supervision, nevertheless, take occasion to comment on the delicate and important nature of the duty pertaining to the Board of ascertaining who are comprehended under the statutory definition of the term "Lunatic," and point out that such persons forfeit by Statute "the common right of personal liberty, and all other personal civil rights as members of the community."

It was precisely the feeling of responsibility which attached to the knowledge of the existence of paupers, who, by being confined in Poorhouses, are made to forfeit "the common right of personal liberty, and all other personal civil rights as members of the community," without, so far as the Board could discover, any statutory authority to that effect, that led them to request the opinion of the Board of Supervision in regard to such cases.—I am, etc.,

(Signed) M. F. Ogilvy, for the Secretary.

W. S. Walker, Esq., Secretary,
Board of Supervision.

Secretary Board of Supervision to Secretary General Board in Lunacy.

Board of Supervision, Edinburgh, 3d September 1858.

Sir,—The letter of the 30th August from the General Board of Lunacy has been laid before the Board, and I am to state that the Board perceive with regret that the purport of their letter of the 13th August, appears not to have been so well understood as they had hoped it might have been.

The Board of Lunacy, in their letter of the 31st July, request this Board to state whether, in their opinion, certain paupers, of whose cases notes were transmitted, are or are not lunatics. They also requested to be informed whether the inmates of poorhouses, whose liberty it is considered necessary, on account of their mental condition, to restrict, are or are not lunatics in the opinion of this Board. In reply, the Board stated that they do not consider it to be within their province to determine whether any individual paupers are or are not lunatics, in terms of the Statute 20 and 21 Vic. c. 71; that in any doubtful case of that description, they could not venture to give an opinion; and that the duty of ascertaining which of the paupers are lunatics, they conceive to be one of the proper functions of the Board of Lunacy.

Had the Board proceeded to give an opinion as to the paupers of whose cases notes had been sent to them, or as to all or any of the inmates referred to in Poorhouses, they would, in so doing, have acted in direct contravention of the principles on which they had just intimated their intention to act, and would have trenched upon what they conceived to be the proper province of the Board of Lunacy.

It must be unnecessary for the Board to point out the inconvenience to the public service that could not fail to result from a conflict of opinion between the two Boards, on such questions as those on which the Board of Lunacy invited an expression of opinion from the Board of Supervision; and the Board believe that they have consulted the interests of the public service, and even of the Board of Lunacy itself, by taking the course they have adopted.

The Board having obtained the opinion of counsel as to the strict legal meaning of the definition of Lunacy given in the Lunacy Act, considered it right to communicate that opinion to the Board of Lunacy; but, in so doing, they had no intention to question the right of that Board to act upon their own or any other opinion, which they might prefer to that of the counsel consulted by this Board. It may be proper to add, with reference to some of the Board of Lunacy's observations upon the effect of that opinion, that the question upon which this Board requested the opinion of counsel, was not whether the definition of Lunacy given in the Statute does or does not comprehend all the persons whom this or that Board may think it ought to comprehend; but, who are the persons whom, according to the strict legal meaning of its terms, it actually does comprehend.

In conclusion, I am to state that it appeared to the Board very possible that, emanating from so high an authority on such subjects, the statement of the Board of Lunacy that they considered imperfect development of the faculties and fatuity as synonymous terms, might, if unexplained, lead to serious misapprehensions; and they are glad to have elicited such an explanation of that statement as seems to restrict it to cases in which the development of the faculties is so imperfect as to amount to fatuity.

The Board hope that they have now made clear all that may not have been well understood in their letter of the 13th August, and that the views they have expressed as to the respective duties and functions of the two Boards, will be accepted by the Board of Lunacy as the most expedient that can be adopted in the circumstances.—I have, etc.,

(Signed) W. S. Walker, Secretary.

Wm. Forbes, Esq., Secretary,
General Board of Lunacy, Edinburgh.

No. 5. Minute of the Board of Supervision as to the Education of Roman Catholic Children, dated 25th March 1858.

The Board took into consideration Mr George Condie's letter of the 17th March, on behalf of the Parochial Board of Perth. He states, on behalf of that Board, that Mr Rigg, Roman Catholic clergyman in Perth, has commenced the formation of a School for the education of the poor children of the Roman Catholic persuasion, and that he has called upon the Parochial Board of Perth for an annual allowance in support of the School, on the ground that a proportion of the annual Poor Rates being derived from Roman Catholic inhabitants, they have a legal right to such an allowance. Mr Condie adds, that any proportion of the Poor Rates drawn from Roman Catholics must be very small, as it is an undoubted fact that a great majority of the Irish Roman Catholics in Perth inhabit places which do not pay Rates at all. Mr Condie further states, that in consequence of the call now made by Mr Rigg, the Parochial Board are desirous of being advised whether there is any legal obligation on them to make any peculiar or extra provision for the education of Roman Catholic children, or whether they are simply bound to offer them the same advantages which are provided for other poor children.

The Board are of opinion that, although education is a part of the relief which the Parochial Board is bound to provide for Pauper children, that Board is not legally bound to subsidise from the Parochial funds, Schools of every different religious denomination to which any of the pauper children and the ratepayers may happen to belong.

At the same time, the Board are of opinion that the Parochial Board is bound to take care that the education given by them, as a part of the Relief which they are required to afford to Pauper children, shall not be so conducted as to counteract the religious instruction which the parents or surviving parent, or, if there be no parent, the legal guardian may intimate a desire to give to any such child.

A parent, or if there be no parent, then a legal guardian, is the only person who, in the opinion of the Board, has a right to determine what religious tenets shall be taught to the child, and the Parochial Board cannot, without undue disregard of the natural and legal rights of such persons, permit any one else to determine that question in regard to the children for whose education that Board is bound to provide. In the case of children who have no surviving parent, the intention of their parents in this respect must be inferred to have been to bring up their children in the tenets which they themselves, or the last survivor of them, professed.

For an exposition of the principles on which the Board has acted with reference to analogous questions in regard to Poorhouses, the Parochial Board is referred to an excerpt from the Sixth Annual Report and the Minutes of the Board printed at pages 10 and 11 of the Collected Rules and Regulations relating to Poorhouses. Those principles appear to the Board to be applicable to the Outdoor Registered Poor, and may serve to guide Parochial Boards in regard to all classes of Paupers.

The Board desire to direct attention to their Minute of the 29th June 1854, with reference to the children of parents who are members of the Episcopal Church, and to point out, that the principle there laid down, as to children habitually sent to the ordinary and properly taught schools of the place, would be equally applicable to the children of parents belonging to the Roman Catholic Church.

The Board are of opinion, that the Parochial Board ought not to object to pay for children sent, by desire of their parents, or legal guardians, to an existing and properly taught Roman Catholic school, similar fees to those which may be usually paid for Pauper children at other schools in the same Parish; but they are of opinion that the Parochial Board is not under any legal obligation to contribute otherwise from the Parochial funds to the establishment or maintenance of a Roman Catholic school.

A. ABERDEEN (ABERDEEN DIST.)

Cols. III. and XIII. In four of these cases, decree in absence passed against the defenders, and the other decree in foro passed.

B. ARGYLL (INVERARY DIST.)

Col. XIII. Decree given for part of aliment advanced by Inspector.

C. AYR (AYR DIST.)

Col. II. In one case, in addition to the above, interim relief was received, but was given voluntarily by the Inspector. In one of the enumerated cases, the order for interim relief was recalled after proof, taken and disposed of in 23 days from its date.
Col. III. These are exclusive of two cases in which the Inspectors made appearance, in each of which interim relief was not ordered till after the Inspectors' answers were lodged.
Col. IV. The above represents the number of admissions to the Roll, but the entry applicable to each case in the Court-Book rather shows that this result was obtained without the Sheriff's order, and by the consent of the Inspectors.
Col. V. Of which, refused on the merits 2, not proceeded with 20; which embraces all cases (exclusive of those in which interim relief was ordered) in which there has been no procedure since the date of the last order or interlocutor preceding 1st June 1858.
Col XI. All under sect. 80.
Col. XII. Upon the party's confession. The other 3 cases were not insisted in.

D. BANFF.

Cols. XIII. and XIV. Not disposed of.

(B.)—No. 1.

E. Berwick.

Col. VI. It should be stated that these 2 cases are cases in which interim relief having been ordered and granted, no further application has been made to the Sheriff.

F. Bute.

Several applications were made which, by conference with the parties, were adjusted, and of which no record is kept.

FF. Caithness.

Col. VI. The Sheriff-Substitute states, in explanation, that he believes that, in several of these cases, the parties had, after application to the Sheriff, been admitted to the Roll, and that quoad ultra the applications were not proceeded with.

G. Clackmannan.

Col I. Applications were made to the Sheriff in which no orders were pronounced, and no record of them kept.
Col. XIII. Decree in one case, and decree for a modified sum in the other.

H. Edinburgh.

Cols. I and II. Besides these, a great many other applications have been made to the Sheriff, so evidently incompetent that they are refused without a statement being put in writing. Col. II. contains the number of applications in which orders have been pronounced.
Cols. XIII. and XIV. The number of such actions in the Small Debt Court cannot now be ascertained.

I. Fife (Dunfermline Dist.)

Col. IV. In five of these cases, the Inspectors admitted liability to maintain the paupers, but met the applications by an offer of Poorhouse relief, which was not taken the benefit of by the paupers. In the sixth case, the pauper turned out to be a dangerous lunatic, and was sent to an asylum at the expense of the parish of settlement. Many other cases were settled by Inspectors with paupers after a verbal communing with the Sheriff-substitute and parties, without any litigation. Within the last six months, vast numbers of able-bodied unemployed weavers have received relief from funds contributed voluntarily for the special purpose of relieving these unemployed operatives.

K. Inverness (Uist Dist.)

Cols. III., IV., and V. This includes one case from previous year.

L. Kincardine.

Cols. IV., VII., and VIII Instituted prior to 1st July 1857.
Col. V. Applicant having declined to proceed.
Col. XII. Other cases not brought to trial in consequence of extra judicial arrangement with Inspectors.
Col. XIII. Not yet disposed of.

M. Lanark (Glasgow Dist.)

Col. I. The number cannot be stated precisely, as no note of the applications is kept, but they seldom are less than two or three every day. They are made verbally to the Sheriff-substitute in chambers.

Col. II. The reason of the discrepancy between the number of applications and the number of orders on the Inspectors is, that the Sheriff-substitute is in the habit of sending a memorandum by the pauper to the Inspector in the first instance, expressive of his opinion of the case derived from the pauper's statement, and the matter is then commonly adjusted to the pauper's satisfaction. Litigation and delay are thus often avoided. On this head reference is made to the explanation given in the return in the Eleventh Report, the same system being still continued.

N. Nairn.

Col. XIII. In which pursuers obtained decrees.

O. Orkney and Shetland (Kirkwall Dist.)

Cols. III. and V. Two of the cases here inserted were contained in last year's Return, and are not entered in Cols. I. and II. this year.
Col IV. One claimant was ordered temporary relief only

P. Perth (Perth Dist.)

Col. I. Four of these only are written applications. The applications from Perth and neighbourhood are disposed of orally, and amount to a considerable number—fifty, at least, in course of the year.
Col. XIII. Four on Small Debt Roll decerned. Two on Ordinary Roll—one decerned, one not disposed of.

Q. Renfrew (Paisley Dist.)

Col I. No record kept.
Col. XIII. No cases brought in ordinary Court.
